DENY COLOR LINE DRAWN FOR SOLO

Local Hotel in Statement Declares Assemblyman Not Refused Room for Race, As His Colleagues Charge

Officials of City Uphold the Contention of Hostelry in Claim No Reservations Received for Legislator

Was Frederick Madison Roberts, colored assemblyman from Los Angeles, refused a room at the Hotel Oakland on Saturday night because of race prejudice or was it because no reservation had been made for him and it was impossible to accommodate him at the hostelry?

Legislators with whom Assemblyman Roberts made the trip to Oakland charged at Sacramento today that the management of the hotel discriminated against the assemblyman, but the management reiterated that its original statement is based on fact.

"We have had colored people in the hotel at various times," said William C. Burgess, manager of the hotel today, "but there is no reason why we should not admit Roberts if we had accommodations for him. There was no request made for a room for him by the arrangements committee."

"When he did apply for a room everything had been engaged. The point was not brought to my attention, but I understand that a fellow law-maker volunteered to surrender his room in favor of Roberts. He did not notify the room clerk, however, so when Roberts called for this room he was refused."

"A clerk cannot surrender a room without authorization from the party engaging it. We did not discriminate against Roberts. If we had intended such a move why should we have admitted him to our dining room. The truth of the matter is that the reservation was not made and we could not take care of him."

CLARIFIED BY MR. ROBERTS OF PARTY.

This statement is borne out by Frank Morris who had charge of the reservation of the list of reservations from the capital where the list was prepared for the hotel management.

"At the eleventh hour a number of Sacramento people arrived and wanted reservations," said Morris today. "Their names were not on the list and we had great difficulty finding accommodations for them. No reservations were made for the news writers accompanying the legislators and no reservation was made for Assemblyman Roberts."

"It was our understanding that Assemblyman Roberts had decided to spend the week-end with friends in this city. When he applied us of his desire of remaining at the hotel we applied for a room and found that everything was taken."

"Inasmuch as he was a guest of the City of Oakland, we offered to do anything in our power to assist him, and offered to follow out any suggestion he had to make. I do not believe that the hotel discriminated against him because on our eleventh hour reservations we had to seek quarters elsewhere."

According to the story as it makes the rounds at the State Capitol today, the colored assemblyman was under the impression that in common with other legislators a room had been reserved for him. His friends accuse the hotel of discriminating against him and quote the room transfer matter as an object.

"It all seems in bad taste," said Assemblyman Van Bernard today. "I would not wonder if some of these projections of the racial issue, which constitutes the only note of discord in our delightful and wonderful trip."

MAYOR UPHOLDS HOTEL STATEMENT.

"The public affairs came as a surprise to me," said Mayor John L. Davis today, "but I feel certain that the hotel management did not discriminate against Assemblyman Roberts. His position in the legislature, if nothing else, would have assured him courteous treatment. Had the reservation been made I am certain that he would have been received as a guest."

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Frank Colburn, who assisted in the official entertainment of the legislators, also expressed himself as of the opinion that Assemblyman Roberts would have been received at the hotel along with the legislative body had arrangements been made in advance.

The party of legislators, including about 200, returned to Sacramento last night, after being entertained by the City of Oakland for

Lenin Is Better, Dead, Paralyzed; Take Your Pick

HELSINKI, March 19.—(The International News Service.)—The Russian council of commissars at Moscow has been informed that Lenin is improving and that he probably will be able to take up his official duties before the end of the present year, said a dispatch from Moscow today.

The Russian war council has been summoned to consider questions arising from Lenin's illness.

BERLIN, March 19.—(United Press.)—Reports that Premier Nikolai Lenin, suffering from partial paralysis, has sustained a critical nervous breakdown were abundant here today following departure of Prof. Struppell and Doctors Bumke and Nouns, famous Leipzig nerve specialists, for Moscow. The physicians received urgent summons from the Russian government.

RIGA, March 19.—(By International News Service.)—Runners that Nikolai Lenin was dead, were received here today from Moscow. It was reported the Soviet chiefs in Moscow were discussing Lenin's successor and were keeping news of his death from the general public.

HOTEL MANAGER SHOOTING BROTHER

Bullet Fired Through Door in Family Feud May Cause Death.

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—(United Press.)—E. J. Bedell, joint lease and manager of the Hotel Clunie, is in the city jail today following an after midnight shooting in which his brother, Milton Bedell, was seriously injured.

The tragedy involves one of the best known and prominent hotel men in the state and occurred in one of Sacramento's leading hotels.

The shooting occurred at 2:15 a. m. Milton Bedell entered the hotel and went to the apartment at the rear of the second floor, where his brother, E. J. Bedell, resides. The men quarreled through the glass paneled door, guests of the hotel stated, and there was a crash of glass as the larger man presumably attempted to force his way into the apartment. The shot followed.

"Oh, brother, you've got me this time," the wounded man moaned, falling to the floor of the hallway, witnesses said.

The police ambulance hurried the victim to the hospital.

"Goodbye, George—don't forget me," he said to a friend as the stretcher bearers carried him down the hallway.

E. J. Bedell dressed and went with the officers to the city prison. Last night, following the shooting and during the excitement of the moment, the hotel man said: "This is the climax of ten years of hell. During that time I have seen Milton between $40,000 and $70,000. He has spent it all, ruined my mother greatly and ruined me and my business."

The Bedells are well known residents of Sacramento. Both are still young men. E. J. Bedell has operated the hotel for several years, while his wounded brother has resided here at various times and engaged in various occupations.

Olympia P. O. Safe Robbed of $35,000

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 19.—Between $20,000 and $40,000 worth of stamps, about $100 in cash and $400 contained in registered mail were stolen by robbers who broke into the Olympia postoffice early today, according to an estimate made this afternoon by Postmaster Frank S. Klem. Checking of the loss, however, was still in progress.

Detective Freed on Kidnaping Charge

NEWARK, N. J., March 19.—John F. Ellis, former private detective, who was accused of kidnaping Alex E. Robertson, a former gunner in the British royal artillery, and tutor for the hand of Miss Mary Culbertson, daughter of former United States Senator Culbertson of Texas, was freed by the court today.

DIVA NAMES ACTRESS IN FARRAR SUIT

Lorna Ambler, Australian Favorite, Made Corespondent by Geraldine in Plea for Divorce From Tellegen

Cottage at Long Beach and Long Walks in New York's Ghetto at Midnight Told Of by Witnesses On Stand

NEW YORK, March 19.—Lorna Ambler, an Australian actress, today was named as the co-respondent in the divorce suit which Geraldine Farrar is pressing against her actor-husband, Lou Tellegen.

Mrs. Ambler's name was brought into the case by the examination of witnesses before Judge Thomas Mahoney. Miss Ambler was described as 25 years of age and strikingly beautiful. She spoke with a decidedly English accent but in a pleasing tone, witnesses declared.

Witnesses testified to a summer alleged to have been spent by Tellegen and Miss Ambler at Long Beach, followed by jockeying in an ordinary New York rooming house, nightly walks through the ghetto and long tea-tetes at midnight suppers in out-of-the-way Italian restaurants.

BUNGALOW RENTED BY SECRETARY.

W. F. Beers testified that, late in June, 1921, he rented a bungalow at Long Beach to a man named Rankin, said to be Tellegen's secretary. Rankin, he said, spent several days there and then Tellegen, whose identity then was unknown to Beers, arrived with a woman of striking appearance. Beers identified a photograph of Tellegen's alleged bungalow mate and then described how the couple had bathed, dined and loitered together for a month at the seashore.

Then Louis Matheson, a lawyer associated with Miss Farrar's counsel and owner of a bungalow near that alleged to have been occupied by Tellegen, took the stand and described excursions which he said Tellegen and Miss Ambler had taken in his rowboat.

In August, 1921, the plaintiff's counsel sought to show the scene shifted to a rooming house on West Thirty-seventh street, New York City and, for months, "the great lover" had to content himself with a shadowy existence.

Norman Fitzsimmons, a private detective, was placed on the stand at this point and testified that, in August, Miss Ambler went to live in a studio apartment in this city, while the next month Tellegen opened an engagement as the leading man in "Don Juan" at the Garrick theater.

ANOTHER WOMAN KNOWN AS "L."

At that time, Fitzsimmons declared, Tellegen was friendly with another woman mentioned in testimony only as "L." taking her to her home on Riverside drive each night and kissing her goodnight. After that, Fitzsimmons continued, Tellegen frequently would return to the rooming house in West Thirty-seventh street where Miss Ambler then was living, meeting the actress in the vestibule and embracing her.

Then they would go for a walk, the witness stated, frequently walking far down town into the crowded East Side. Sometimes, he said, they would drop into small restaurants for late dinner, often sitting and talking for hours over their asparagus. Then they would return to the rooming house and after a fond farewell, Tellegen would depart in a taxicab for his suite at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

TELLEGEN REFUSES TO MAKE COMMENT.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 19.—Lou Tellegen, who is playing at a local theater, declined to discuss allegations bringing the name of Lorna Ambler into his divorce proceedings.

"I never discuss these divorce matters," he stated. "Any statement will have to come from my attorney in New York."

Dr. Work Turns From Politics to Surgery

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(By International News Service.)—Secretary of the Interior Work, who was a practicing physician and surgeon before he entered President Harding's cabinet, left for Rochester, Minn., to attend Senator Nicholson of Colorado, who is seriously ill at the Mayo hospital. It was stated at the Interior Department that Dr. Work may be asked to perform an operation on Nicholson.

Quick Start Is Planned on Big Subway in L.A.

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—Plans for the immediate construction of a $4,500,000 subway terminal under Pershing Square, as the first unit of a $20,000,000 rapid transit system linking Los Angeles with all the surrounding territory, was scheduled to come before the City Council today.

With the recommendation of the City Planning Commission, originators of the project, before it, the Council was to take up the plan as submitted by the Pacific Electric Company and other interested parties.

Construction of two subway systems will begin simultaneously with the construction of the terminal, if all plans are approved. One subway line will run direct to Hollywood over the right-of-way which has been secured by the Pacific Electric. The second will be a new beach route which will be subway to Palms and then a surface line to the beach. The running time to both Hollywood and the beaches will be reduced about twelve minutes.

MID-WEST AGAIN HIT BY BLIZZARD

Six Known to Have Perished From Storm; Property Loss Is Heavy.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Chicago, with 4 degrees below zero early today, had the coldest March weather in 32 years.

WACKESIA, Wis., March 19.—W. M. J. Hutton, 76, leader in Wisconsin educational and reform institutions for more than a score of years, died here yesterday, a victim of the storm. Hutton had entered his home after a mile of walking from church through heavy snow drifts when he fell dead. Heart disease was given as the cause.

CHICAGO, March 19.—(By International News Service.)—Disrupted railroad transportation, crippled wire communication, crop losses calculated in millions of dollars and a death toll of at least five were left today in the wake of a severe blizzard which swept the Middle West. The storm appeared over Montana, dipped into Colorado and Nebraska, swept eastward through Iowa and Illinois, and is now howling across Indiana into the southeast. The blizzard was referred to as the "worst storm in a quarter of a century."

The downward lurch of the thermometer brought the mercury in many cities to the zero mark. Sub-zero weather was predicted for tonight in the Great Lakes region. The mercury dropped 49 degrees in 24 hours.

Crops in Western States were badly hit. The potato crop in Kansas was dealt a severe blow, and the peach crop in Oklahoma sustained at least $2,000,000 damage. Missouri recorded the coldest March weather in its history.

Lake shipping in the Great Lakes region was crippled. Boats were delayed and blocked by ice. At Rockford, Ill., an unidentified man was found dead in a snowbank. At Baxter, Colo., three children were overtaken by the storm and perished. At Kutch, Colo., a man died of exposure.

By Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., March 19.—The worst blizzard since 1881 has been raging over Nebraska and Western Iowa and the temperature dropped to 9 below zero here. It is feared there has been loss of life in the state; highways are blocked with snow drifts; towns are snowbound and many trains stalled in snow-filled cuts.

yesterday fire broke out in the block at Fourteenth and Douglas streets and swept through half the block, causing a loss estimated in excess of $250,000.

Train services throughout the state have been crippled by the storm. All trains on the Great Western out of Omaha and west-bound trains on the Northwestern were annulled. The Rocky Mountain limited is reported snowbound near Jansen, Neb. All Union Pacific trains are running hours late.

By Associated Press.

LEADERS WIRE TO TRIBE.

DENVER, March 19.—Four persons were frozen to death in the blizzard which has been sweeping through Colorado from the north for two days, leaving a blanket of snow ranging from 13 inches to several feet in places and sub-normal temperatures in its wake. The blizzard was reported to have been in the region south of Denver in the vicinity of Colorado Springs and Pueblo, according to reports available in Denver today.

FASCISTI IS ORGANIZING IN AMERICA

Under Personal Direction of Premier Mussolini Agents Work in United States to Form Branches of Order

Members in This Country. Despite Their Naturalization. Swear Obedience to the Parent Organization

By JOHN L. SPIVAK, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Under the personal supervision of Benito Mussolini, premier of Italy, who captured the Italian government by his organization of Fascisti, Fascists are being organized in the United States by agents sent here from Italy for that purpose. It was ascertained today by the International News Service after an extended investigation.

This amazing effort, which already has met with a measure of success, is part of a world-wide movement.

SWORN ALLEGIANCE TO ITALIAN FASCIST.

Italians who join the Fascisti in the United States (even though they are American citizens and renounced all allegiance to "any foreign king," prince, potentate, etc.) when they were naturalized, swear "unquestioning, complete and unlimited obedience" not to the Italian government, but to the Italian Fascist. The Fascist here aims to embrace every Italian, naturalized or unnaturalized, in its American groups and later, it is declared, if possible, to include other nationalities.

Branches have been organized by Mussolini's agents in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Bridgeport and Worcester. All American branches have been ordered by Mussolini to obey the New York branch, the headquarters, which, in turn, receives its orders from Mussolini direct through his agents or from the central party bureau's officials in Italy.

One group insists upon strict obedience to the Italian Fascist dictates, as called forth by their oath upon joining the Fascists and which, incidentally, nullifies the oath of allegiance of those who have been naturalized. The second group, more friendly with American ideals and customs, advise that the Italians here become naturalized and take an active part in the government to the best way of accomplishing their objects.

QUARRELS RESULT IN NEW BRANCHES RISING.

Out of this factional war have sprung bitter quarrels, which resulted in the formation of new branch organizations.

The primary object of both the military and conservative factions of the Fascisti organized here, it is declared, is to have organizations ready, as in Italy, "to fight any form of radicalism such as Socialism, Communism, etc., which may rear its head."

In this primary object the conservative element councils co-operate with the established laws of the country. The military element ignores the laws of this country and prepared to pursue tactics similar to those used by the Fascisti in Italy. In Italy the tactics used resulted in open warfare.

As a means to help organize Fascists in the United States, Italian newspapers have been established which have been entered as second class mailing matter through the postoffice. These newspapers are avowedly for the purpose of spreading Fascist propaganda.

The Italian king, in one of the most influential of these papers, is "tenderly referred to as 'our king'."

In communications addressed by Mussolini to the American Fascists and in the articles to Fascist papers established here, Italian groups, citizen and non-citizen, are constantly referred to as "Italian colonies."

By GEORGE E. D'ERNO, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The mantle of the Italian Fascisti has been hung over the entire world. Official confirmation was given at the Italian embassy here today to an International News Service despatch from New York revealing a widespread organization in the United States of the Fascisti, the group which recently gained control of the Roman government. Other branches of the "black shirt" organization, it was stated, are being established in other countries.

Wife of Ex-Kaiser Bares Home Life With Wilhelm; Denies Rumored Love Rift

Princess Hermine Tells of Happiness Existing in Doorn Castle.

The first exclusive interview granted by the Princess Hermine, wife of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm Hohenzollern, since her marriage, has been secured by Ferdinand Jahn, United Press staff correspondent.

Following is the first of a series of three articles, in which the Princess definitely sets at rest world-wide reports of differences between herself and the ex-emperor; describes the intimate family life at Castle Doorn; talks on politics and attacks former President Wilson.

Information obtained by Jahn during his visit to the ex-Kaiser's household at Doorn definitely established the truth regarding reports of an impending interesting event in the Hohenzollern family.

The second installment of Princess Hermine's interview will appear tomorrow.

By FERDINAND JAHN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press Associations.)

DOORN, Holland, March 19.—The family life of the former German Kaiser and his Kaiserin at Doorn castle is simple and happy.

The Kaiserin—better known as the Princess Hermine—made that emphatically clear in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

She dispensed emphatically all the chatter that has spread worldwide to the effect that she is leaving Wilhelm or going to Korfu. She made it plain that the ex-emperor and herself are pursuing, in happiness and unity, the simple life of studious active folk here in this picturesque out-of-the-way corner of the world.

The love of the princess for the former Kaiser and the love and respect her children accord their father was much in evidence during my visit.

TELLS OF PROPOSED TRIP TO GERMANY.

Explaining a forthcoming trip to Germany, the Kaiserin said: "At the end of this month I am going on an eight weeks' visit to Silesia."

"You can believe me, it is hard for me to leave the emperor alone. But I am also a mother. And the interests of my children demand my presence in Germany twice a year. These times, naturally, are so chosen that they coincide in spring and autumn, with the vacations of my eldest sons, who are at school in Germany. Naturally, these journeys are previously arranged."

The princess greeted me pleasantly. My first impression was that she fully beamed with health, energy and the joy of living. She was plainly dressed in a blue costume, with a veil, dark cotton gloves, woolen stockings and she carried a cane.

The three youngest of her children played about outside. "My children quickly developed confidence in the Kaiser and a liking for him," Hermine said. "And, for his part, he treats them with fatherly tenderness. When my oldest boys are here, they help the emperor to chop wood."

EMPEROR INTERESTED IN CULTURE STUDIES.

"The emperor is actively interested in all branches of culture," she said.

"Just at present, he is busy on archaeological studies and on plans for a booklet he is preparing regarding Greek antiquities."

"The emperor also is proceeding earnestly with his meteorological studies and observations. He is strongly occupied, too, with theological studies."

"Above all, the Kaiser follows politics, in which he naturally has the greatest interest."

POPE SENDS PEACE ENVOY ALONG RHINE

Vatican Takes Active Steps in Move That May Bring Intervention in Ruhr Occupation; French Sentry Shot

German Assassin Suspects Arrested Following Slaying of Sentry at Essen; Drive to Cost 196,000,000 Francs

LONDON, March 19.—The French authorities at Essen have detained as hostages a number of parliament, the district attorney and several bank directors, following the killing of a French guard there yesterday, says a Berlin despatch to the Central News.

ROME, March 19.—(By International News Service.)—Active steps toward intervention in the Ruhr were taken by the Vatican this morning. Monsignor Testa was sent to the Ruhr on a special mission of investigation by Pope Pius XI. The pope, in celebrating St. Thomas day, said that religious ceremonies are more important now than ever before, owing to the inroads of science upon religion.

DUSSELDORF, March 19.—(United Press.)—The French caught a German today suspected of being the assassin of a sentry, Henry Schmidt, a sentry of the army of occupation, shot in the dark at Essen railway station Saturday. If the suspect is convicted by court martial he will be executed immediately. Three other Germans captured near the station shortly after the shot that killed the sentry was fired, are held. A fourth, shot while running away, died of wounds.

RUHR OCCUPATION EXPENSE HITS FRANCE.

PARIS, March 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government has sent to parliament a supplemental request for an appropriation on account of Ruhr occupation expenses in which it asks for a total of 196,000,000 francs for occupation operations during January, February, March and April.

HAMM, Germany, March 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Ebert ventured as close to the French occupied zone yesterday as was permitted by the safety of the republic's chief executive and conducted a series of conferences with the labor leaders, industrialists and officials of all branches of the civil service, then took the night train back to Berlin.

The president was loudly cheered whenever he presented himself in the streets of Hamm, which throughout the day were jammed with huge crowds of miners and steel workers who came over from the occupied area and vowed they would "see it through."

LORD CURZON EXPECTED TO MOVE.

LONDON, March 19.—(By International News Service.)—It was reported today in circles close to the foreign office that Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, expects Germany to make a move within the next few days for settling the Ruhr problem. It is said the Lord d'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, plans to come to London soon with Germany's proposals.

Johnson Lands in Europe For Tour

CHERBOURG, March 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson arrived here on board the steamer George Washington from New York. Johnson said he had come to Europe after four years of parliamentary work to rest and not to investigate, as it had been said he would.

When he will go to the Rhine and then visit Italy and England, starting on his return trip home June 7.

When asked his opinion regarding the Ruhr occupation Johnson replied: "I am American and have no advice to offer France. I have no desire to visit Germany."

Congressmen Will Not Tour in Russia

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The tour of Russia this summer by a party of senators and representatives as guests of the Russian government has been abandoned, Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, announced today.

Failure to receive an official invitation from the Soviet government to get together a congressional party were the reasons given. Senator Ladd, however, may make the trip alone later.

S. P. Fuel Oil Rate Is Alleged Unjust

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—
A complaint was made to the Railroad Commission today that fuel oil rates charged the Southern Pacific between Richmond,
Contra Costa county and Redwood city are unjust and discriminatory.
The National Magnesia Manufacturing company, The Fruit-Low Preserving company and the Pacific Silicate company, declared that the present rate of 8 1/2 cents per hundred pounds in oil shipped in tank cars should be reduced to 4 cents, the rate which now ap-

Wood to Turn Cans on School Budget Cut Today

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK.
TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, March 19.—Back to work at the Capitol from their visit to Oakland and the bay region, and more than pleased with the splendid reception given them, the members of the California legislature today plunged into a whirlpool of political issues.

Overshadowing everything else
this week, is the hearing of the slashes in the appropriations for education by both houses, sitting in what practically amounts to a joint committee-as-a-whole. The educational forces of the state, which appear united in their opposition to the governor's economizing where it affects education, and especially the training of teachers, are led by Will C. Wood, superintendent of education.

This battle was expected to take place a week ago, but was delayed owing to the fact that the educational forces asked for a few more days in which to present their case, following their conference, which took place in Oakland last Friday and Saturday. It is scheduled to be opened today.

HECKE PREPARES FIGURES.
I am told that Director Hecke of the State Department of Agriculture has prepared all his figures and evidence for the budget committees, and that there is to be some exceedingly plain talk this week on such matters as the abolition of farm publications, of state representation at agricultural fairs, and other similar measures by which, it is said, Director Hecke is endeavoring to placate whatever sentiment there may be for economy in his department, this spirit being described by some of the
"Moloch of Thrift."

The proposal to abolish the "bifurcated" sessions of future legislatures, by which the legislature would remain in session without taking the present constitutional recess, seems to have some chance of passing in the Senate, where it is being sponsored by Senator Greenley. However, in the assembly, the progress of this measure has not been auspicious to date, and the bill has been poised for re-consideration.

REAPPORTMENT HEARING.
In the course of this week the reapportionment hearings will be

HART ORDINANCE MAY BE ENFORCED

The ghost of the old Hart ordinance, which set a license tax upon the sale of spirituous liquors, will flit again upon the stage in Oakland, according to Commissioner Frank Colbourne after a conference with City Attorney
Leon Gray.

Gray asserts that a Los Angeles decision has proven that the $100 annual license fee can be imposed.
This applies to drugstores where liquor is sold on prescriptions.
The Hart ordinance is an Oakland statute, but a similar ordinance in Los Angeles was upheld by the courts. When prohibition arrived Oakland endeavored to enforce the Hart ordinance, but it was held that the eighteenth amendment superseded all other laws, and the Hart ordinance was invalid anyhow, because there wasn't any liquor to tax.

The city officials, however, observed the lack of new "prohibition prescription drugstores" which cropped up, and decided to clamp the $100 license fee on those stores. The case was argued in the superior court and the city won an advantage, but failed to enter judgment, not caring to start a long battle into the higher court.
The Los Angeles case, however,
was taken to the Court of Appeals, which has upheld the validity of the Los Angeles ordinance. This judgment, according to Gray, gives Oakland the privilege of taxing its liquor drugstores.

It is time to consider

VENNETTA RARE IN QUADRUPLE SLAYING PROBE

Restaurant Proprietor Near Everett, Wash., Arrested in Murder Case.

EVERETT, Wash., March 19.—
Following a trail extending almost the length of western Washington, Snahomiah county authorities last night arrested George Dennis, 35,
Greek restaurant proprietor at Morton, Wash., in connection with their investigation of the quadruple murder of Mrs. Cleopatra Karas, her brother-in-law, Gust Karas,
and her two minor children here
early Saturday morning.

Working on clues indicating the existence of an organized Greek vendetta, officials last night declared they expect to lay hands upon the criminals responsible for yesterday's murders and the firing of the Karas home in an attempt to hide the crime, within the next 24 hours.

Arrested on a warrant charging arson, Dennis is to be questioned as to his knowledge of a secret organization among Greeks which officials believe has sworn vengeance upon the Karas family.

Letters written in Greek to Mrs.
Karas and translated through the efforts of the Seattle police department, are said to have led to the arrest of Dennis.

As one assemblyman pointed out: "One particular budget item may take up an entire afternoon of the legislature's time. The budget hearings are attended by all assemblymen and senators, and consequently committee sessions that were formerly held during the day, have to go over into the evening, and frequently into the small hours of the next day. All of this takes up more time than was the case in former years."

Seattle Plant Is Razed By Flames

BY WILFRED GREEN.
SEATTLE, Wash., March 19.—
The Western Pipe & Steel company plant was swept by flames
this morning, causing damage estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000. Eight fire companies and the fire tug Snoqualmie fought the blaze for several hours following its discovery at 5:10 a. m. The ruins are still burning.

RADIO SETS TAKE

1000 MILE DANCE
1000 MILE HANG

CHICAGO, March 17.—Many records of long distance reception of music from radio broadcasts, stations by receiving sets, using a crystal detector, have been made during the past winter, according to reports compiled here today by an interested radio amateur. While radio experts say such reception is not considered very difficult, it is accomplished only at night and with the weather conditions ideal.

The "crystal" receiving set, it was explained, requires no batteries for its operation and very few instruments. The crystal detector itself is a simple device, using a small piece of galena crystal—lead ore—to change the radio signal picked up by the aerial or antenna into recognizable sounds. The crystal is fastened in a holder, and so arranged as to be in contact with fine copper wire which is adjustable over any part of its surface.

Some amateurs have reported receiving broadcasting stations as far away as 1000 miles, while others say that they have heard stations 300 miles or less from their listening posts.

Such long distance reception, radio experts have explained, is done by the crystal set, alone and without any outside assistance from a neighboring set that uses an audio tube as a detector.

"Due to the reports of long distance receiving with the crystal," one radio amateur said "many

Hoover Names Men For Radio Meet

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Secretary Hoover has announced the personnel of the General Radio Committee which will meet at the Commerce Department Tuesday to consider what administrative ways and means should be adopted for prevention of interference in broadcasting.

Major-General George O. Squier, chief signal officer of the army, will represent the war department on the committee. Other members include Commander N. C. Bingham, navy department; W. A. Wheeler, department of Agriculture; John W. Sutherland, postoffice department; Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, secretary institute of radio engineers; Hiram Percy Maxim, president American Radio Relay League; and A. H. Griswold, American Telegraph and Telephone company.

anxious listeners have sought to learn how it is accomplished. While I cannot point to any one type of set that will do the work, I can say that only close adjustments of the variable instruments with perfect weather conditions and the proper aerial, will bring in the far-away station. The crystal set, receiving plane—bookings, in the language of the radio fan—have been offered as solving the problem, but even some amateurs in this city have been able to receive Schenectady, N. Y., without any special apparatus."

SOPRANO TO SING AT U. C. CHARTER DAY FESTIVITIES

Miss Harriet Bennett, soprano, who has recently returned to the bay region from a concert season in the east, will sing at the University of California Charter Day banquet at the Hotel Oakland next Friday evening. She will be accompanied by Miss Maybelle Hughes Bauman.

The banquet will conclude the Charter Day program, and many distinguished guests will be present, including Rear Admiral William S. Sims, President David P. Barrows of the university, President elect Campbell, and many others. A hundred distinguished alumni of the university will serve on the reception committee, and they will be augmented by the regents of the university and their wives.

Listen, World

Only those who have suffered to the last limit of their individual endurance, then feebly, but triumphantly built a new alliance with life, can understand the meaning of those verses. For only they know the laughter of which she speaks. When fate has done its worst with you, when sickness, death, deceit and injustice have eaten through to the sinews of your spirit, you no longer cry or talk about it. Words and tears mean nothing at all. You are still.

Then, if you have the seeds of courage in you, you learn to live again. But it is no longer yours. You are free. You have conquered. Care because you have conquered. Self, you no longer measure all experience by its reaction on you or all people by their service to you. And so you escape both fear and disappointment. When you have come to that point, pain has no power over you. You learn to laugh. People do not hurt you for you no longer lean on them or make impossible demands of them. Sickness does not frighten you, for even death can bring you nothing worse than sleep. Love does not fail you, for you have learned at last that it is only what you give, not what you get in love, that counts. And so you learn to laugh.

"Bitter?" Oh no, my friend, only free. Freedom is lonely. If you would have it, you must pay the price.

The Beginning of a Beautiful Friendship

HARRIET and the PIPER

Level-Headed Love Stolen Love Tempestuous Love

By Kathleen Norris

Richard was back at his desk. He smiled and rose as she came in. There was another man in the library, who rose and faced her, too.

And when Harriet saw him she knew that she was too late. It was Royal Blondin.

A dizziness and sickness came over Harriet as she went slowly to the chair opposite Richard. She touched the desk for support as she sat down, and felt that her fingers were cold and wet.

"Mr. Blondin has come to talk to me about Nina," Richard said. Harriet somehow moved her dizzy eyes toward Blondin, and she smiled mechanically. But she had to moisten her lips before she could speak.

"Not quite all," Blondin persisted. "You believe that Nina would be wiser not to marry me?" he asked Harriet.

"You—?" She cleared her throat. "You know that I think so," she said.

Blondin laughed. "And now, Mr. Blondin, you will kindly leave my house!" said Richard.

The other man was watching Harriet with a menace in his narrowed eyes. White lines had drawn themselves about his tightly closed lips, yet he was smiling. He had lost the game, truly, but he knew he would play his last card, just the same. The naivety, the calm of years fell from him, and his voice deepened into a sort of cold and quiet fury as he said:

"One moment, Mr. Carter. Why makes her think I won't make Nina a good husband? Why don't you ask her if she has been hiding something from you all this time? Why don't you ask her if she has been wanting to marry me? When she was Nina's age, and whether she was married in my studio, to me, ten years ago?"

He had shot the phrases at her with a distinctness almost violent. Now his dry lips stopped, but his swift, venomous look went from the silent man at the desk to the silent woman who stood before him. Before either moved or spoke he spoke again.

"Ask her—she'll tell you! Ask her!"

"Be quiet!" Richard said. "I don't believe a word of it! And then as the girl neither raised her eyes nor attempted to speak, he asked her, encouragingly and quickly: 'Harriet, will you tell him that not one word of that is true?'

Harriet had risen and was standing at the back of the carved black chair with both her hands resting upon it. She had looked quietly at Blondin when he began to speak, and the beautiful white breast that her black evening gown left bare had risen once or twice on a swift impulse to interrupt him. But now she was looking down at her laced fingers, with something despairing and helpless in the deep of her bright head and lowered lashes.

It had had its times of seeming fruitful to her, this secret, in the troubled months of the past year. But it had never loomed so horrible and so momentous as now, in the silent library, with the eyes of the man she loved fixed anxiously upon her. He had trusted, and he was beginning to admit her, and like his wife and his daughter and his mother, she had failed him.

"Harriet?" he said in quick unconsciousness. She raised her head now.

"Well, there is one thing I won't come here again," Tommy would say. "I don't want you to have anything more to do with me. I am not going to talk about anything that was of interest to anyone but myself. Say, how did you know Jones at college?"

Outside, Mr. Jones spoke in even and decisive tones. "We will not see any more of the Joneses. It seems to me you found more to say to her than was necessary or even polite. I do not wish to cultivate their friendship."

Next morning Mrs. Tommy took down her telephone receiver to ring up Edwin Jones.

"It worked on my end of the line," she said to the man who had been a stranger until the night before.

"And on mine, too," said Jones; "thanks to you."

A dash of salt is a desirable addition to a white of egg to the cream that will not whip.

Lay the dull file in diluted sulphuric acid for sharpening.

Jams that are boiled rapidly always have a rich, clear color.

Man Love Two Women?

Jacinto Benavente, Spanish Shakespeare, Skeptical of "The Exclusiveness of Love"—Is Confident Man Is Capable of Cherishing More Than One Woman at the Same Time—Separation Better Than Divorce, He Says.

By JANE DIXON

A man may love more than one woman at the same time. As a matter of Spanish philosophy, a la Benavente, a man may love "quite some" women at the same time.

Not only may he, but he can. Love divided and scattered here and there over the field of affection is a physical or metaphysical possibility, or both.

We have the assurance of Spain's Shakespeare, this same brilliant Benavente, Jacinto by name, that monogamous love is possible, but not imperative.

"Como no?" asks Señor Benavente. Which, being translated, reads "why not?"

When we stop to reflect that this genius of the whirl won for himself the Nobel prize for the best literary creation of 1922, his assertion concerning the multiple phase of the "passion grade" is important.

"Do you mean a man can love more than one woman, in the high sense of the word?" we questioned, remembering the luring ladies with their white faces and the insidiously crimson lips.

"Perhaps," came the suave answer, backed by a truly Latin smile.

This was really too much. We had hoped to relegate all but one of the "quite some" women to a rather indistinct and questionable background. Not on the Benavente. He would place love on a more elastic basis, release it from its solitary confines, allow it to lift its wings and perch on wayside windowills.

DOSE IS GREAT.

"Who is the best actor I have ever seen?" There was reluctance to answer the query, superinduced, no doubt, by the fact the Benavente was on American soil and dosa Winter in the old days in Minden—had moved to Crawford with her husband and the two had taken up the old story, that in remembrance of their with a half gaily sense that they were flirting outrageously.

Uncle Wiggily

Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND NANNIE'S HOOP.

Uncle Wiggily was sitting in his hollow stump bungalow one day, wondering how soon it would be spring, when the little birds might begin to sing, when, all of a sudden, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard a noise.

"And it doesn't sound like birds singing, either," said Uncle Wiggily with a twinkle of his pink nose.

It wasn't a singing noise at all. It was a bleating, blating sort of sound and a voice cried:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, please come and help me get my hoop back!"

Mr. Longears sprang up so quickly that he almost frightened the clock into stopping its ticking, and Uncle Wiggily hopped to the door. There he saw crying Nannie Wagtail, the girl goat.

"What's the matter, Nannie?" asked the bunny rabbit, "and what did you say about your hoop?"

"I want you please to come and help me get my hoop back—my nice hoop that I roll around," sobbed Nannie.

"Has some one taken your hoop?" asked the rabbit uncle; "some one like the skilful scallery alligator or the Fuzzy Fox?"

"No one like them—it was my brother Billie," said Nannie. "He took my hoop."

"What for?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, he said he and Johnnie Squirrel, the squirrel, were going to break it, and he knows they'll break by hoop and then I can't roll it any more. Please come and take it away from them!" begged Nannie.

"I will," promised Mr. Longears, and then, putting on his hat, he hopped away with Nannie, the girl goat. She led him down by the duck pond, where the ice was just breaking up, for it was almost spring—but not quite.

When they reached the bush and could look behind it they saw Billie the boy goat, passing a large sheet of white paper around the rim of Nannie's hoop. Johnnie, the squirrel, was not in sight.

"Oh, now I see what they meant," whispered Uncle Wiggily. "Your brother is making a paper hoop just like the kind used in the circus, where the pink lady on the back of a white horse jumps through. Your brother and Johnnie are going to jump through the hoop!"

"But I don't want them to," said Nannie. "I don't want them to break it!"

"I don't know what they're going to do," Nannie answered, "except that Billie said he was going to play circus. I don't see how you can play circus with a hoop."

"Neither do I, but we'll go look," said Uncle Wiggily.

Is a Woman Justified in Murdering a Husband Who Criticizes Her Cooking?

THE other day a woman gave as her excuse for murdering her husband that he always criticized her cooking.

She stood it for years and years, and when she could endure it no longer having him ask, "Did she call that soup coffee?" and

"What was the matter with the biscuit, and if she thought she 'had a Government contract to make cannon balls instead of something to go in the human stomach," she reached down her little automatic and forever silenced his carping tongue.

All that woman will need in order to get free when she is tried is to demand her constitutional rights to be tried by a jury of her peers. No twelve married women will ever send to the electric chair a sister who has done the thing that they have been tempted to do a thousand times, and that only the grace of God kept them from doing.

IF THE men who grumble over their food and knock their wives' handiwork as they pass the table of it, only mind readers enough to know that the ladies across the table from them are wishing that they had the nerve to flavor up the abused dishes with a little Rough on Rats it would spoil many a husband's appetite. Likewise, there would be a great improvement in domestic table manners, and husbands would follow the old nursery admonition, to eat what is set before them and ask no questions, and make no comments.

Why women should be more sensitive to criticism of their cooking than they are to criticism of anything else they do they could not tell themselves. They simply are, and nothing gets on their nerves like having strictures passed upon their grivies, and invidious comparisons instituted between their pies and another woman's pies. Nor is there any woman who would not rather have her character aspersed than her baking.

Perhaps the reason that they resent criticism of their cooking so fiercely is because cooking is a sacrificial rite, and the woman who has made a burnt offering of herself on the kitchen stove feels that she should get a better reward for her sufferings than knocks. There is small encouragement in being a martyr if no one appreciates the results.

The discouraging thing about housework, anyway, is that the woman who labors hardest of any woman in the world never has anything to show as the results of her toil. She cannot point, as the authoress can, to her rows of books. She cannot show her prosperous store, as the business woman can. She has spent her life sweating blood for the next minute, mending, making clothes that were out, cooking food that was gobbled up and forgotten. The only reward she can hope to have is the gratitude and appreciation of those she makes comfortable, and if she does not get this, she is cheated of her just due.

Yet this is the case of the great majority of women. Their husbands are not intentionally unkind to them, but they are committed to the belief that the first duty of a husband is to be an expert hammer wielder, and to use cave man tactics in the home. Therefore, he lets his wife have it good and hard. He lambasts her for everything she does, and falls to do. He is a perpetual fault-finder. He is a critic on the hearth who never stops chirping.

He is as silent as the grave about all the thousands of times his wife has pinched a nickle until the buffalo howled with agony, but let her once spend a dollar foolishly and she never hears the last of it. He may have devoured three hundred and sixty-four perfect dinners, apparently unaware of what he was eating, but if the three hundred and sixty-fifth dinner has too much salt in the soup, and the meat is overdone, and the potatoes underdone, he hurls to heaven over it.

I HAVE known men whose whole conversation at home was a raking fire of criticism. It began at the front door with a "Why do you let that child leave his skates in the front hall?" "Why don't you dust the parlor mantle?" "Why can't you keep clean towels in the bathroom?" "Do you call this soup or dishwater?" "My Lord, can't we ever have anything but mutton?" "It is a strange thing to me that you can boil potatoes for thirty years and never learn how to get them done," and so on and on until you sat lost in wonder that the poor, tired, overworked, abused wife didn't take the carving knife to him.

There are plenty of men of this type who believe that the way to keep a wife in her place is to give her a kick instead of a boost. I have had such men tell me privately, and secretly, that they admired their wives very much, and thought their wives fine managers and superlative cooks, but they would have died under tortures rather than tell their wives so. They never tell their wives that they look good to them. On the contrary, they rub it in on their faces about how old and faded they have grown. They grunt out something about foot fashions, and the idiocy of women who wear clothes too young for them.

It is literally true that many a married woman would drop dead with surprise if her husband let her know that he admired her and appreciated her.

The only compliment many a man pays his wife is the one he has carved on her tombstone. I wonder if the ghosts of the women who have been criticised to death smile cynically as they hover over the cemeteries.

My Marriage Problems
Revelations of a Wife

WHAT HAPPENED ON THE LONELY ROAD.

I slowed my car at the sound of the signalling auto horn, and spoke anxiously to Harry Underwood, who had twisted his head to the rear and was peering through the window at the back of the car.

"He's just doing that little thing," Mr. Underwood replied, "and turning around at the same time. Can't you stop on her, and leave him fill with his merry-go-round?"

I'll inform this end of the island that I have no desire to wriggle under old Herbie Pettit's cold anatomical eye for any extended period.

There was real anxiety under his extravagant expression of anxiety which I shared. I remembered the old animosity between the two men, and felt that if the physician's keen eyes penetrated Harry Underwood's theatrical disguise he might make things most unpleasant.

A CONTEMPTUOUS GREETING.

"He's the most reckless driver on the island," I said. "He has a sweet car, and you know his stubbornness. If he has anything to say to us he will follow us till one car or the other breaks down."

"All right, I'll bluff it out," he returned. "Here he is, bless his baby heart!"

Dr. Pettit's car ranged itself alongside mine, and the physician leaned out of it to say with his usual politeness:

"Ah! Mrs. Graham! I am lucky to have encountered you. I have a message for you."

"From Katherine?" I asked, regretting my indiscretion the next second. My father might trust Harry Underwood fully, but I never could forget that despite his spectacular eloquence, he had once been guilty of treachery to friends and country. His wife no ears to receive the secret of Katherine Bickett's presence in the hospital.

"As to that, I cannot say," the physician replied, and I read in his rigid tone grim disapproval of my reply. "But, after all, it is more for Mrs. Underwood than for you. Is she at the farm?"

"Yes, she is," I returned. "And you are needed there. I was just going to telephone you. Some people from Southampton had a motor accident in front of the house. No injuries save shock, but Mr. Smythe-Hopkins wishes a physician's verdict before he takes his wife home."

"This is Mr. Smythe-Hopkins?" Dr. Pettit looked inquiringly at Harry Underwood. Indeed, he had been staring at him coldly, steadily from the moment he had drawn up the car beside ours.

"Oh, no! Pardon me," I replied nervously. "Don't Ramon Almiraz, Dr. Pettit, Don Ramon is a guest of the Smythe-Hopkins family, and I am driving him to their home to arrange matters for their return."

"I see," he passed, while I held my breath tensely. "But surely I have met you before. He gave the effect of having the question at the other, and his eyes were narrowed menacingly."

I expected a denial in the courteous foreign accents belonging to the pseudo Don Ramon. But to my astonishment, I heard the robust tones of Harry Underwood.

"Of course we've met before. Herbie. We've been little pals together. But before you start anything, I'd advise you to consult the parent of our Lady Fair here. He'll give you an awful, I imagine."

The lines in the physician's somber face etched themselves more deeply, and into his eyes came a steely glint, betraying the cold wrath more deadly than any other variety, which he was holding in leash.

"Ah! Underwood!" he said with a cutting note of contempt in his tone. "I thought it was you. You are wise, however, to adopt a disguise, even if it is not a very convincing one."

"JUST SCATTERING SWEETNESS."

For a tense second I feared that the man beside me would leap into the other car and wipe the sneer from the physician's face. But either his indolence or his prudence prevailed, and as I heard him laugh easily, provokingly, I drew a long breath. I had no fear that Dr. Pettit would lose his self-control before me—he is too proud of his dignity.

"Always the little joy-bearer, aren't you, Herbie?" Harry Underwood said tauntingly. "Just scattered sweetness and light all around the atmosphere. But as the Lady Fair, you truly don't need any greater supply than we have on hand, we'll just say to-to and run along. Start up the buzz wagon, Sister—if you don't mind—and let us go away from this angry man."

"Mrs. Graham," Dr. Pettit's voice fairly dripped condemnation. "I cannot understand your being in the company of this man. But, of course, I shall not 'elay you longer. Good morning!"

Mileposts

THE BOURGEOISIE.

Willie Smith, a school boy in New Jersey, wrote to a local paper wanting to know who and what were the Bourgeoisie.

The editor said in effect that the bourgeoisie were the shock absorbers of the industrial and economic life of every nation. They were the ordinary, average folk who work hard, practice thrift and make the wheels of business turn.

They are that and much more. The bourgeoisie are not the whiners, snifflers, bellyachers and I-won't-work element. They are the backbone, the muscle and sinew of these United States. They are too busy with the ends of honest industry to spend much time talking about the capitalist class and the proletariat and arraying men against each other.

The Soviet leaders were hoping the revolution they inaugurated and for which they are spending so much money in propaganda would find ready response in this country.

It struck the solid wall of bourgeois common sense, the granite in homespun Americans, and butted its brains out.

Every worker a home owner and capitalist; every capitalist a worker and all pulling together for the common good. This is the creed of the bourgeoisie of America. There is much to be done before it can be fully realized but clear-sighted believers in democracy have their eye fixed on the goal and no Soviet bunk can distract them. Read Mr. Hoover's book in this connection and rejoice that he is not only a Californian, a patriot but a world citizen.

Mildewed Money

Thomas Tight—
Had been forewarned—
By folks who had long gone before—
That pennies saved were pennies earned—
He also heard from those who know—
That money makes the old mare go—
Although mine never did—
Not fast enough to win a race—
And Thomas conked these proverbs o'er—
And said—"I'll keep my worldly store—
Safe in a barrel—
Then some day when I'm old and gray—
I'll make my dough each passing day—
Bring me content—and hapiness—
For with my Mrs. on my arm—
I'll say farewell to this old farm—
And hit the pike—to see the world"—
And so as dollars rolled his way—
Likewise thin dimes—
He salted them down in his barrel—
And there were times—
When he would yearn to buy some things—
For faithful wife—
Who patched his clothes each passing day—
To stand the chills of wear and tear—
Of one more chilling winter—
But he would put the buying off—
Although her friends would loudly scoff—
At her home-made appearance—
And every night old Thomas Tight—
Would sit beneath a smoky light—
And figure up his interest—
While in his eyes there came a glow—
As smilingly he watched it grow—
And as he skimmed the dull years by—
Each year he reaped his sowing—
Until at last—oh joy—his barrel—
Was full to over-flowing—
At last he told friend wife one day—
Let's start a conversation—
Out where the wheels of life go round—
And so with bulging roll unfurled—
They started out to see the world—
And when he struck a village strange—
He scratched his head as if the mange—
Had broken out on him—
For when he asked the price of room—
It sounded like the crack of doom—
When he was told ten dollars—
Gone were his dreams of pleasure now—
And cold sweat stood upon his brow—
He knew he could not mend it—
For money won't buy happiness—
For them it hurts to spend it—
The miser feels the chastening rod—
Laid stoutly on by jeering god—
His mildewed money.

JUBILEE'S 9 PARTNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Yesterday was Sunday and it was a nice day so that the kids could all go to Sunday school.

When my ant got hold of my hair and started to scrub my face she seemed to be limbering up for the summer; but she did not need to work so hard, because I will be going in swimming two or three times a day in the summer and that ought to have her a lot of work. But it won't. She likes that kind of work. There is something about a boy's ears and nose and eyes and things that will not year out. If my ant had scrubbed a marble statue as much and as hard as she has scrubbed my face every Sunday since she has been living with us, the statue's face would have been as smooth as the top of my grandfather's head, but a fellow's ears lay back and his nose bonds over and his eyes and mouth shut up to let her get past, and then they all show up again like nothing had happened, which is lucky for them.

I showed a little last night but not much, and most of it was melted this morning and the ground was sloppy and Jubilee got right in when I let him down by the nose in his teeth. Hopper came into our barn whilst I was milking, and I asked him if I owed him anything and he said I don't; then I asked him if he was sorry he cleaned Youngs' mother's yard for me, and he said he was not sorry. Then I told him Youngs' mother gave me a half for getting it cleaned so that he can get the half I paid him off with. He said that was all right with him. Then I felt better. I had felt kinder so at myself for not telling him before. For nobody likes to do a crin.

Red came along with the bunch after I had fed my face and he said he had a setting hen and he had a good mind to lend it to Mush, and Hopper said if he would that he would get him a setting of eggs, so we told Mush about it when we got to school, and Mush's wife said for him to not be a fool. She said that a hen has not got any sense and that if she hatched out any chickens this time of year she let they would come out of their shells wearing fur coats and looses. She oughta have married my grandfather. The one of them that told the first lie would not stand any show.

When school left out the Lost Bag of Tripe had a piece of screen and he got down the dam to the place where the water runs out and told us to open her up and he would strain the pond through the screen and whack up the fish with us, so we did. The water hit him so hard that he turned over four times and lost his screen before he could crawl out. We made out like we thought he was holding out a pocket full of fish on us and searched his clothes while we were holding them over the fire we made. He turned blue before we gave them back.

Tomorrow—The Lost Bag of Tripe Springs a Surprise.

THE STORY OF COLUMBUS.

Part III—Sailing on the Sea of Darkness.

Columbus was sad of heart when the king and queen of Spain told him they could not send him westward "for the present." He remained in Spain for a time, talking of his plans to persons he met here and there. Then he made a trip to Portugal to see his family. He brought his son Diego back to Spain.

For the next few years, the bold sailor had a very uncertain life. A few small sums seem to have been given him from the royal treasury and he is supposed to have spent some time fighting against the Moors. Because of the war, it was hard for him to get another hearing from Ferdinand and Isabella, but at last a duke came to his aid.

The duke gave him a letter to the king and queen, and they listened again to his plans. Learned men were asked what they thought about it all. Most of them said Columbus had a foolish idea, but a few took his side.

Again the monarchs were afraid to give a plain "no." Again they replied, "Not for the present."

But they added, "Maybe later." Columbus did not put much faith in the "maybe later." Isck at heart, he decided to go to France where his brother, the map-maker was trying to interest the French king.

Traveling with little Diego, he found it necessary to beg food on the way. One day he stopped at a convent to ask for bread. There he met a priest who was a warm friend of the queen.

The priest was a kindly man. He talked with the ragged stranger and learned about his plans.

"Ah," said the priest, "you have a grand idea. I know the queen well, for I used to be her confessor. I'll send her a letter and see if she will change her mind."

As a result of this letter, Columbus was summoned back to the court. The queen sent him money so he could buy good clothes before he came into her presence.

Then came dealings in earnest. At the end of two or three months, an agreement was signed. This said Columbus should have three ships to sail westward until he reached India. He was to be called an admiral and was to be governor of all lands he might discover. He was to get one-tenth of all money made from such lands.

There was a town in southern Spain called Palos. It had given offense to the king and queen. As a punishment, it was forced to pay for fitting up two vessels for Columbus. The cost of the third was borne by the royal treasury and a Spanish Jew named Pinzon.

The tale of Queen Isabella "sell-

The Position of a Young Man

A minor league baseball manager received a letter from a young player who gave an unabridged and highly flattering account of the author's ability to make good in any company. Also he declared he could hit 'em harder and higher and farther than "Babe" Ruth ever did. It so happened that the manager was very much in need of a utility player, but the young man had neglected to say whether he was a pitcher, catcher, infielder or outfielder.

The manager did not know what position the prospective phenom played. A reply came back accompanied by a snapshot of a youth in uniform, crouched and apparently awaiting the arrival of a grounder.

"You can see by the inclosed photograph," wrote the young man, "that I play in a stooping position, with one hand on each knee."

Wife Takes Poison, But Will Recover
"A fit of anger," Mrs. Nellie Blyth, 27, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide early this morning by taking poison at her home, 1726 Thirty-fifth avenue, according to police reports. She was taken to the emergency hospital by her husband, and first aid treatment was administered, following which she was pronounced out of danger.

HARDING PLANS TO CENTER HIS FIGHT ON WEST
Results of the Congressional Election Cause Big Move Toward Pacific.

By HERBERT W. WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent, WASHINGTON, March 19.—The "winning of the west" will be the first objective of President Harding's campaign for re-election which has been definitely started by the executive's close political associate, Attorney General Daugherty.
The President and his political advisers are understood here to have decided that to attain a Republican victory in 1924, the great bulk of the states in the middle and far west must be carried in this respect, the President will use the same political strategy as was employed by his predecessor, Woodrow Wilson, who, in 1916, nosed out Charles E. Hughes by winning the west.
WEST THE BATTLE-GROUND.
Hope of swinging the west into line behind the Republican standard is the principal reason for the President's transcontinental tour this summer. He does not wish to make an extensive campaign tour following his re-election in June 1924, and therefore feels he must set the record of his administration before the west this year.
A study of the results of the congressional election last November has convinced Republican political chiefs that the party must be strong in the west if it is to succeed in 1924.
FIRST WESTERN TRIP.
In the last election, the west also manifested some strange political upheavals, which are indicative of its independence, but Republican leaders believe the President, by his personality and his speeches, can counteract these movements on his tour. He has never been west of the Missouri river.
Already invitations from scores of chautauquas, county and state fairs and other gatherings are pouring into the White House from the west.
Whittie Daugherty said there would only be one candidate against Harding, the friends of Senator Johnson of California and General Wood have been quite active. La Follette is certain to receive some votes.

Considerate.
"After all," says a TRIBUNE reader, "the funeral thief was considerate of the victim's feelings. Most thieves don't wait till a man's dead."

Let's Hope So.
Hixing is under the ban in the theaters of Rome. An Alameda vegetable grower wants to know if tomatoes and eggs are still au fait.

Autos On Trial.
J. J. Lane today was placed on trial before a jury in Superior Judge L. S. Church's court. Lane is alleged to have run down John Douglas, 7-1-10-10, and to have fled without aiding the victim.

Simply Must Fall.
Elmer Cross the Los Angeles "Aerial Jonah," has fallen from six scaffolds. An Paabany wag says it only goes to show that it's hard to keep a good man up.

The Only Way.
An Alameda housewife says if she were married to a man who ate up the household utensils, she'd feed him with paper ashes.

POP SAYS THE MAN AT THE TOP IS THE FELLOW AT ALWAYS GOES TO THE BOTTOM OF THINGS, SO HERE I GO

Outline of His History.
The career of a funeral thief may be summed up in the phrase, "From Tombstone to Rockpile."

We reckon nobuddy 'll maintain that it's better 'I have loved an' got shot than never 'I have loved at all. We believe a jazz orchestra trombone looks better in a derby hat than anybody we've seen yet.

Slightly So.
An Oakland undertaker, discussing the operations of the "funeral thief," says that's what he calls a grave offense.

Foot Is Crushed.
While inspecting a freight car in the S. P. yards, Gus Kallas, 320 Brush street, last night suffered a badly crushed foot when a switch engine backed into the car.

30 Drunks Arrested.
Thirty men were arrested in Oakland over the week-end for being drunk.

December 15, last. Eugene Van Fleet, a fireman, declared: "If you ever attempt to leave me you will find yourself dead in your own tracks," avers Mrs. Maren Van Fleet in a divorce suit instituted today.

Changed His Views.
A local man says he was never really superstitious till he read about the man who was going to be hanged on Friday, April 12.

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW
During these days how many children are complaining of Head-ache, Feverishness, Stomach Troubles and irregular Bowels and take cold easily. If mothers only knew what Mother Gray's Sweet Powders would do for their children no family would ever be without them. These powders are so easy and pleasant to take and so effective in their action that mothers who once use them always tell others about them. Sold by druggists everywhere. Trial package sent FREE. Address: Mother Gray Co., Le Roy, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Grave Menace.
An Eastern educator says American women are weakening themselves by adopting men's sports. A local poker fiend says penny ante sometimes causes one to develop pernicious financial anemia.

Jury Panel Drawn.
A jury panel containing fifty-eight names was drawn today under the direction of Superior Judge L. S. Church, for trial of criminal cases.

Faces Two Charges.
Louis Jemenez was today charged with taking an automobile without the consent of the owner. He was arrested last night for driving without any light on the officer then discovered that the automobile had been reported stolen.

Probably.
A local surgeon says it looks as though that man who swallowed twenty-seven spoons will have to go under the knife. If he recovers, will the doctors make him fork over?

Says Life Threatened.

New Scientific Discovery In Laundry Starch Originally Developed For Makers Of Fine Fabrics

Housewives Glad to Know New Way of Getting Soft, Cool, Pliable Finish in Their Garments

New Remarkable Starch Discovery Now Offered to Every Housewife

EVERY refined woman wants her dainty garments starched so as to look sheer and beautiful—with that delightful, pliable finish that everyone admires so much.
Heretofore it has not been possible to get at home the same elegant finish you find in goods fresh from the store, or from the exclusive French laundries.
The Reason for the Natural Linen Finish
The secret of this lovely finish is now made clear to housewives. It is in the use of Linit—the new scientific starch discovery—made just the way the great fabric manufacturers use it.
Linit gives the same natural finish to all fabrics you find in garments fresh from the store.
How the Life of Your Dainty Garments is Lengthened
Linit is made by a new process that keeps the starch THIN and free-running for a long time after it cools. This prevents the starch from caking, smearing or sticking to the iron.
It enables Linit to penetrate to the very center of every thread of the fabric. This preserves the material and resists wear.
Linit makes cotton look and feel like linen; because every thread of your garment is "starch-treated." You will be delighted with the soft cool, pliable linen finish that Linit gives your cotton goods.
TRY THIS:—To make even ordinary cotton sheets and pillow cases look and feel like pure linen, with a soft cool and pliable finish use ½ cup Linit to 14 cups of water.
Not only does Linit give cotton a linen finish, but you will notice an entire absence of the disagreeable lint usually associated with cotton goods.

Neglected Opportunities
"Clothes don't make the man," but a neat appearance is a great factor in the making of the man. Shoes play an important part in the making of a man. All shoes in due time need repairing. It is as rare today for the cobbler to advertise his service as it was a few years ago for the church and the bank to use the printed page.
If the local cobbler printed a small Business Card every day in the Business Directory on the first Classified Want Ad page of The OAKLAND TRIBUNE he would do three things: First, make money for himself. Second, save money for the owner of the shoes. Third, make business for the firm that sold the shoes because the owner would be pleased with the long service rendered and would go back in the end to that store.
Some day cobblers will advertise as gardeners do today in the

Miss Rountree Is Bride In New York

Word has been received from New York of the marriage of Miss Gracella Rountree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Rountree of Berkeley, and Robert Van Zieck Anderson of Menlo Park, which took place Friday, March 16, in St. Andrew's Episcopal church. Officiating was Rev. Dr. Van De Water, rector. The nuptial vows were exchanged before a score of intimate friends at high noon and the bride given in marriage by her uncle, William H. Sage, who was host at a wedding breakfast for the members of the bridal party and guests at the Hotel Plaza in the eastern metropolis.
Mrs. Edwin Dewey, who was Miss Eleanor Stratton of Berkeley, was matron of honor at the wedding and the best man, Dr. Ralph Arnold of Los Angeles.
Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will sail Wednesday for London, England, and will spend several months abroad touring the continent.
The bride left for the East just a week ago, where she was met by her fiancé, who was en route home from the West Indies. She is one of the prominent graduates of the class of '21 of the University of California and a member of the Alpha Phi sorority.
Anderson is affiliated with a large petroleum concern in England for which he is consulting geologist. His father is Professor Melville B. Anderson, Dean Emeritus of Romantic Arts and Literature at Stanford University.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Lavigne entertained at a mah jongg and tea Saturday afternoon at their home in Monticello avenue, Piedmont. A score of the younger set were guests at the affair. The wedding of the young couple was a smart event of a few months ago, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kaufman of Claremont.

The honeymoon was passed in Santa Barbara and Coronado and since their return the La Vignes have taken possession of their home in Piedmont.

Miss Katherine Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Rommel of Grand avenue, left Friday for a two weeks' visit with relatives at Coronado.

Mrs. Charles Woerner (Bonnie Lee Himes) was hostess at bridge Saturday afternoon at her home in Ridgeway avenue, St. Patrick's day appointments were used. Places were set at the luncheon for Misses Henry H. Benedict, William Boone, G. C. Judah, Edwin Johnston, Joseph Charles Karasky, Addison N. Himes and the Misses Verna Himes and Theo Rasplier.

FOR GUESTS FROM LOS ANGELES.
Saturday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Dennis Reynolds a daintily appointed bridge tea was given by their daughter, Miss Irene Reynolds. The honor guests were Mrs. J. Clement Story and Mrs. John Percy Stewart, who are up for a stay from Los Angeles.

Among the guests were the Misses Bessie Limer, Laura Warnock, Esterbrook, Nancy, Rebecca Coughlin, Marjorie Shuler, Bernice Woodall, Lorraine Faneuf, Mary Kerr, Sibyl Smith, Katherine Collins and Auld Nette.

The Snell Memorial will give a benefit musical the afternoon of Saturday, March 24, at the residence of Mrs. H. F. Carlton of 360 Lennox avenue, this city. The affair will interest a large number of the alumnae of the school.

MID-LENTEN PARTIES PLANNED.
Mrs. J. P. Maxwell will be hostess at a luncheon the afternoon of March 23, when the guest of honor will be Mrs. Burlington Carlisle who returned from the East some time ago. Mrs. Murdoch will entertain at her home in Richmond boulevard. A dozen intimate friends will share her hospitality.

Another luncheon and bridge is to be given by Mrs. J. P. Maxwell at her home March 24.

Mrs. Clarence Johnston has bidden her friends to luncheon March 27, when the honoree will be Mrs. James Bayless who is visiting here from Los Angeles. Places will be set for sixteen of the friends of the honor guest and the later hours will be given over to mah jongg and bridge.

Mrs. L. W. Lovey will entertain the afternoon of April 3 at her home in San Antonio avenue, Alameda, when Mrs. William H. Langdon will be the guest of honor. More than a score will be guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon Moore of San Mateo have taken the Arthur Vincent home at Pebble Beach for the tournament. Mr. Moore plays with the Cardinals of San Mateo and is planning to entertain extensively.

BETTER BUILDING SHOW PRAISED BY REALTY MEN

Prospective Builders Will Be Helped by Coming Display.

General approval of the first annual Eastbay "Better Building Show" which opens next Thursday for a ten-days' special exhibit at 1424 Franklin street, was voiced today by a number of representative Oakland business men who have taken a prominent part in the growth of Oakland. The Better Building Show is a splendid idea and a very timely exhibit for the people of Oakland.

Among the statements issued today were the following: Porter Giles, secretary Oakland Real Estate Board.—"The Better Building Show is a splendid idea and a very timely exhibit for the people of Oakland."

E. W. Shaw, secretary Alameda County Builders' Exchange.—"The Better Building Show, to start this week, should perform a real lasting service to prospective builders."

Rose D. Wyatt, managing director Oakland Chamber of Commerce.—"I believe that the Better Building Show will serve a real constructive service."

F. F. Porter, president Oakland Real Estate Board.—"One visit to the Better Building Show will be an education in the variety of building materials and home furnishings sold in our home cities."

Fred Reed, president California Real Estate Association.—"Any movement which seeks to acquaint the public with the best products of a community receives my endorsement."

Missing Girl Found; Only Visited Friends

Homelessness for the district in which she used to live and her desire to see some of her old playmates, led 7-year-old Aimee Sprey to take a trip into East Oakland without her mother's permission, and resulted in a police search for the child, who was reported missing.

The child was located late last night at the home of a friend, Mrs. M. Lucas, 2815 Twenty-fifth avenue, and returned to her mother, Mrs. J. A. Smith, 812 Castro street.

WOOD ALCOHOL KILLS MAN.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Wood alcohol claimed another victim today, when an unidentified man of 30 was found dead in a vacant lot near Third and Tehama streets with a bottle which had contained the fluid beside him.

A Delight

That millions have discovered
Whiter, cleaner, safer teeth

Look about you—note the prettier teeth you see. Note how people smile to show them.

Think what added beauty those pretty teeth have brought.

Millions now clean teeth in a new way. You will use it when you know. This is to offer a ten-day test so you may find it out.

That dingy film
Teeth are coated with a dingy film—that vicious coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Film coats left
Old brushing methods left much film intact. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

Avoid Harmful Grit
Pepsodent erodes the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

on modern research. Those two great film destroyers were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Now it has come into world-wide use, largely by dental advice.

Other effects
Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Those are vital tooth protectors. Soapy tooth pastes weaken them. That's one reason why they failed. Pepsodent multiplies their power.

Watch the change
The way to know is to make this test. Judge by what you see and feel. It will be a revelation.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then you will realize how important this is to the people in your home. Cut out coupon now.

3 ARE KILLED, 20 INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Auto Containing 4 Women and 2 Men Plunges Over
Embankment Near Montara; Other Motor Victims

Automobile accidents in the bay region over the week-end claimed a total of three lives and injured twenty persons, several of whom may die.

THE DEAD.

When an automobile containing four women and two men plunged over a 200-foot cliff near Montara on the San Mateo county coast, yesterday, Mrs. Alice Romero, 450 DuBois avenue, was instantly killed and five other occupants of the car were injured. Mrs. Romero was in a machine driven by William E. Murphy, a San Francisco druggist. The accident occurred on the Pedro grade in a remote section of the road leading into Half Moon Bay within a few feet where a machine toppled off a highway several years ago, killing Senator Charles M. Delehaw.

The crash was witnessed by a number of automobilists. A moment before the car left the grade and plunged through a fence into the canyon, it darted ahead as though out of control.

KILLED IN PLUNGE.

Ray Robinson, 39, an employee of the Mason Tire company, 148 Second street, San Francisco, was killed when an automobile in which he was riding with James A. Frey, also of San Francisco, plunged over a 200-foot embankment yesterday twelve miles south of La Honda.

As John Manuel Sanchez, 21, an employee of the Giant Powder Works, Richmond, was walking to a drugstore to get some medicine for his sick baby yesterday, he was struck by an automobile and instantly killed, just outside the city. The driver of the car speeded away and his identity was not learned. Sanchez was the father of three children.

INJURED.

The following five persons were riding in the automobile with Mrs. Romero and were injured in the accidents in which she was killed: William E. Murphy, 1501 Alameda street, San Francisco, internal injuries; Mrs. William E. Murphy, same address, lacerations and bruises; Miss Frances Murphy, 809 Ashburn street, San Francisco, cuts and bruises; Miss Mary Murphy, same address, cuts and possible internal injuries; and Walter J. Kutzuff, 20 Twelfth street, San Francisco, cuts and bruises.

Patrolman George Ewing of the Mission station, San Francisco, was seriously injured early yesterday when an automobile in which he was riding with Assistant United States Attorney J. Raleigh Kelly collided with a cable car at Taylor street and Columbus avenue, San Francisco. Kelly was driving the machine.

Four persons were injured when an automobile driven by a Fort Scott army officer crashed into a motorcycle and side car, in which one of the officer's own soldiers was riding, at Mission and Mission streets, San Francisco, last night. The injured are: Lieutenant W. H. Woolsey, cuts about the head; Mrs. W. H. Woolsey, broken leg; Ben Blough, messenger at Fort Scott, two broken fingers; and M. Crosby, 55 Perry street, San Francisco, internal injuries.

Jerry Halloran, Seventh and Washington streets, received several broken ribs when he was struck by an automobile at Market and the Embarcadero last night. Halloran was running after a train. John Richmond, 265 McAllister street, San Francisco, suffered a broken leg last night when his motorcycle was struck by an automobile at Mission street and Silver avenue, that city. The driver of the automobile did not stop.

WIGHT ARE INJURED.

Students at the University of California were injured in two automobile accidents occurring near San Jose. The first, the one in which the college students were injured, occurred on the Brokaw

U.C. Co-eds Take Men's Place To Get Out Annual of Daily

BERKELEY, March 19.—"The girl who is ready to take a joke need never remain an old maid."

Once more, the co-ed at the University of California comes back at the male of the species. Today marked the annual women's edition of the Daily Californian on the Berkeley campus. Men were excluded from all branches of the college paper and women filled all the roles, from that of printer's "devil" to managing editor.

Here is some more of the editorial comment which college women got into a paper of their own editing, some of which, however, take the form of flings at their own sex:

"A monologue is a conversation between a co-ed and a snake."

"When a girl has a headache, she's not half so anxious to take a day off as she is to take a couple of years off."

"Women reformers are starting on a clean-up campaign by wearing long skirts."

"A miss in the seat is worth two in the engine."

"A gardener ought to be given credit for more extensive education than a prof—he covers more ground."

Miss Sylvia Hirsch, women's editor and Miss Marian Brandt, women's managing editor of the Daily Californian had charge of today's edition of the campus paper. Co-ed reporters "covered" everything from the Southern California truck meet to last Friday's visit of the State Legislature to the campus.

In an editorial, Miss Hirsch deplores student apathy toward the traditional university meeting held every fortnight on the campus. This meeting President David P. Barrows has threatened to abolish unless more interest is shown by students in attending the gatherings. A petition signed by senior women to have the meetings continued is now in the hands of the college head.

Among the co-ed reporters on the staff of today's paper are the Misses Adeline Bowden, Mary Elizabeth Fox, Eleanor Ellis, Dorothy Stahl, Elizabeth Warner, Elizabeth Powell, Lucille Wistrand, Helen Duppre, Georgine Pink, Ardis Gehring, Eugenie Bolton, Marian Hogan, Maryetta Carrick and Madge McConnell.

BOYS AND GIRLS BATTLE FIRE AT SALVATION HOME

SANTA ROSA, March 19.—Boys and girls fighting flames from the roofs are credited with saving the main buildings at the Salvation Army orphanage at Linton, four miles north of Healdsburg, early this morning during a fire that destroyed the school house.

The children with wet blankets and pails of water posted themselves on the other buildings and successfully smothered a deluge of sparks and brands that descended from the burning structure.

Starting shortly after 5 o'clock, before daylight, the blaze consumed the old school building and all of its equipment. Teachers and employees and all of the 250 children at the home were enlisted in the efforts to save the other buildings, including the new dormitory, gymnasium and group of cottages.

Colonel Albert Sisson, superintendent, says he thinks pencils were responsible for the fire.

John Cabot and his son Sebastian discovered the continent of North America and claimed it for England.

BOARDING OF CHILDREN IS REGULATED PROBATION

City Council Passes to Print
Ordinance Making Permit
Necessary to Conduct the Houses; For Inspections

A new and stringent city ordinance regulating the conduct of boarding houses for children was passed to print today by the city council, as a result of dissatisfaction against the sanitary and ethical influences of some of these boarding houses.

The ordinance makes the operation of such a house unlawful without a health department permit. Permits are good for six months and can be revoked at any time by the health department. The department is empowered to make inspections at any time, and the department is to make rules governing the conduct of such places. The owners or managers of these houses must make written reports upon the arrival or discharge of children.

Penalty for the evasion of the law can be as high as a $250 fine or 90 days in jail.

The council received from the State Railroad Commission a statement that the city's questions concerning the jurisdiction of the commission on the Southern Pacific First street row, will be heard and passed upon when the First street case is heard March 26.

Funeral Held For Mrs. C. N. Taylor

BERKELEY, March 19.—Funeral services were held today from the Berkeley crematorium for Mrs. Caroline Norton Taylor, widow of William H. Taylor, pioneer railroad man of California. According to friends, death resulted from grief for Taylor, who died last November. Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Mayel B. Lammon.

Mrs. Taylor was one of the prominent society figures of the state in former years.

CASTOR FREE OF BREAKING PROBATION

Testimony of Wilkens Trial
Witness Is Made Basis of Charge of Violating Freedom in Manslaughter Case

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Robert Castor, one of the pivotal witnesses against Henry Wilkens in the murder of his wife Anna, was freed today on a charge of violating his probation by Superior Judge Harold Landerback.

Castor is at liberty on probation following the death of Wilkens testified that Castor had attempted to blackmail him. Judge Ward held that either version of the affair made Robert Castor a violator of his probation.

Judge Landerback in dismissing the charge of violating probation declared that he could not proceed with the accused who was entitled to a jury trial. If indeed he could be called an accessory in the Wilkens case, he released him insofar as his probation violation was concerned, leaving it to the police to arrest him if they desired on charges growing out of the Wilkens case. Neither the police nor the district attorney desired to arrest Castor in connection with his testimony and so he was given his liberty.

Castor, Castor, the main witness against Wilkens, appeared in connection with a last check charge, the attorney asked for a continuance and the trial was set for March 20.

Girl Collapses Giving Evidence Against Mother

Compelled to testify against her mother in divorce proceedings brought by her father, 13-year-old Evelyn Fonte, daughter of Manuel Fonte, of Hayward, collapsed on the witness stand in Superior Judge T. W. Harris' court today and had to be led from the courtroom.

Fonte told of arriving home unexpectedly and of finding his wife in a compromising position with a man whom he named as "Jesse." He said that when the man attempted to escape from the house he captured him. He testified that he kept his wife and Jesse in the house until the three children of the Fonte family returned from the theater. He then told the children of the occurrences.

Evelyn Fonte told of coming home from the theater and of finding her father standing guard over her mother and a strange man. She said that she heard her mother tell her father that if he caught this man, she would commit suicide. The couple were married April 7, 1907, and separated February 14, 1923.

COUNTY TO AID IN STREET WORK

The county will pay for paving in front of the Detention home in order to allow for the improvement of Union street between Eighteenth and Twentieth streets, the Board of Supervisors told the representatives of a paving company.

The Merchants' Exchange was given permission to hold public meetings two nights a week in the hall of the county building, the public with the provisions of the proposed public utilities water district act to provide a new water supply.

RYANS TO BE TOPIC.

Riots of cities and villages in Guatemala caused by devastating earthquakes will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Senator Mercedes Seguin before the Oakland Spanish Center tomorrow evening.

ALLEN TRIAL TO PROCEED TOMORROW

Superior Judge H. L. Preston of Ukiah to Preside in the Place of Judge Samuels. Who Is Ill: Is Known Here

Superior Judge H. L. Preston of Ukiah will preside at the trial of Harry Allen of Palo Alto, charged with the murder of Walter Dowdy, Palo Alto automobile dealer. It was announced today when the case was called by Presiding Judge Harris in the absence of Superior Judge Samuels, who is ill.

The agreement the case was continued until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to give Judge Preston several hours in which to examine the transcript of the evidence taken thus far.

Man Found Alive, Wife Gets Decree

For fifteen years Karl L. Farrar, 1611 Fairview avenue, Berkeley, thought that her husband, Isaac Farrar, was dead, she told Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell today. Then she attempted to sell a piece of property, but could not do so until she obtained his signature. Not being able to find him she brought an action to have him declared legally dead. The judge before whom the case was heard demanded that a more thorough search be made. As a result of this third search he was located in Colorado. The civil action to have him declared dead was dropped and a divorce suit substituted with the result that Mrs. Farrar was granted a decree today by Judge Kinsell.

Now the Sonora and Victrola and Edison
---joining fame to fame

THIS is an age of specialization. We have learned through the centuries that concentration upon one goal brings success. That is why Oakland Phonograph Co. has focused its entire business policy upon one factor—Quality.

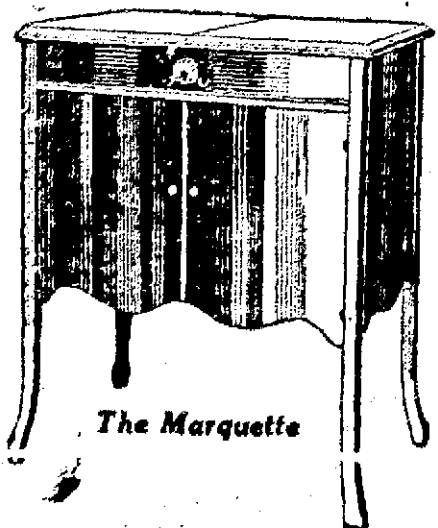

Heretofore, the Victrola and Edison have been supreme in their fields, and we have been successful with the Victrola and Edison exclusively. Now a runner has matched them in the race. We are not giving up the Victrola and Edison, but are including their mate—the Sonora—among our products of Quality, thereby joining fame to fame.

The Victrola and Edison have given our patrons dividends of satisfaction. We believe we are increasing that dividend by offering the Sonora as well. Sonora prices range from $60.00 to $300.00.

CALIFORNIA IN THE MAKING

The mining camps have furnished an almost limitless field for the exertions of the humorous writer. Rich in humor, it is still more so in pathetic incident, in tragedy, self sacrifice and heroism.

There were two sides to life in 1849—good and bad, the same two sides that are pointing their fingers at each other today. They are a part of our life today; they were then.

This series will show the life of those days, both sides, but will show that, however difficult and discouraging the conditions, right usually conquered in the end, morally, if not financially.

KNIGHT AND JOHNSON HITTING BALL HARD FOR OAKS

TWO PITCHERS, TWO INFELDERS AND ONE CATCHER ARE RELEASED BY MANAGER HOWARD

WHEN IS A PLAYER DUE FOR SCRAP HEAP? ASK GEO. E. HOWARD

Justin Fitzgerald and Tub Spencer Were Brought Back Into Professional Ball by Big Dell—Both Made Good—Now Thomas Is Being Tested

By EDDIE MURPHY.

OAKS TRAINING CAMP, MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS, March 19.—George Elmer Howard, the heavyweight of the Howard brothers who are looking after the training stunts of the Oaks here, is about to show the baseball fans of the Pacific Coast League that he knows when a fellow is not through as a ball player. Every now and then Del uncovers some ball tosser who is in retirement, and induces him to get back in action, and that player becomes a star in the Coast League. It was Del Howard who in 1913, when managing the San Francisco Seals, brought down from the mines around Goldfield, Edward (Tub) Spencer. Spencer, when with the St. Louis and Boston Americans, had about as much love for training rules as a cat has for a dog. So Spencer continually broke rules until he was canned from the majors.

From the majors to the mining camp of Goldfield drifted Spencer. He toiled around there until Del Howard, finding himself in need of a good catcher, sent for Spencer. Howard was able to handle the big fellow, and for a time nobody appreciated Spencer's rescue from retirement by Del Howard more than Spencer himself. It took the fellow some time to get into shape, but when he did he set the Coast League on fire with his wonderful catching and hitting. He had a peg to the bags that looked simple, and fans used to go out to the ball park and wait for runners to steal just so they could see Spencer swing them out. Very few basestealers got away with anything on Spencer, and when they were caught it was by feet and not hands.

McCredie Thought That Fitzgerald Was Through.

Spencer passed out of the Coast League picture the last winter when he was sold, but it was only after proving that he had two years of good baseball left in him at the time that Del Howard picked him up.

Now we come to another athlete whom Coast League fans know very well. He is a big fellow, a professional baseball last summer—Justin Fitzgerald, the San Mateo carpenter. Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland Beavers, had Fitzgerald on his club. The speedy athlete, who was a pitcher in the majors, was a big fellow in the Coast League today, hurt his arm one day while throwing a ball. Everything was done to try and fix the injured member, but the hurt was so great that he had to leave the team. McCredie regretted to give Fitzgerald the gate, for it looked like Fitz would become one of the greatest stars in baseball, not only in the minors, but in the majors.

When McCredie gave him the rate, Fitzgerald went back to his trade at carpentering around San Mateo. Del Howard requested Fitzgerald to try a comeback in 1914, and the speedy athlete was glad to get the chance. His arm was a little better than when McCredie gave him the gate, but far from being valuable in throwing out runners. But Fitz was such a sensation on the base in the field and at the bat that fans overlooked his sore arm, and he got by as well as any player in the league at that time. He was a bear in going after line drives and fly balls, and he was seldom a season that he did not bat better than .300. He had nine years of good baseball in him after Del Howard brought him back.

Thomas and Pair of S. F. Castoffs Making Good.

In this camp today are three players who are castoffs and who are ready to try if they can make the grade with the Oaks. Indications are that they will make the grade in big league style. Two of them are rookies, Al Maderias, an infielder, and Lyle Wells, a pitcher, who were both with the Seals in training at Boyes Springs last spring. Both kids look like they will stick through the season.

The third man, the fellow of whom a comeback like Fitzgerald and Tub Spencer is expected, is Chester Thomas, the same fellow who was with the Oaks in 1909 and 1910. Chester retired last year after drawing his release from the Cleveland Indians. Chester is not much different than the time he was with the Oaks before, except that he has ten years of major league experience. Chester is going to go big in the Coast League. He acts every bit as good, if not better, than did Sam Agnew when he came out to the Seals. Not in the last ten years have the Oaks had a catcher who knows so much about the catching trade as does Thomas.

If Thomas does the stuff like everybody in camp thinks he will, to Del Howard for being a man who knows what he is doing in bringing players out of retirement to make good.

Baseball Gossip

MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS, March 19.—Yesterday being the last Sunday of training for the Oaks here, a crowd of fans motored up from Oakland. George Hays and his wife, who were in the city, and Mrs. Ray Brubaker, who was in the city, were among the arrivals. Mrs. Walter Mails and her family were in from Sacramento.

John Davis, former collector of the Port of San Francisco, spent a week here watching the Oaks in training. Davis is an enthusiastic baseball fan, and he has already reserved seats for himself and his wife for the opening game in Oakland. Davis is a keen judge of ballplayers and he was among Hal Rhyme's best boosters before the Seal shortstop made good. Davis thinks that the Coast League fans will rave over Marvin Smith, the Oaks' new shortstop. The losing of his hands in handling batted balls reminds me so much of Willie Kamm's, said Davis.

Mrs. M. E. Cuthers of Charleston, Maryland, and mother of the Oakland outfielder came here in company with Mrs. Charles Wagner of Berkeley. Mrs. Cuthers saw her son play his first game of professional ball last Saturday, and had put it on her program for him by making a wonderful one-handed catch to rob Ray Brubaker of a home run. Mrs. Cuthers will remain around the bay until the opening game of the season in Oakland.

The big treat of the training period is scheduled for tomorrow. Walter (Duster) Mails will lead his left-handed ball team against the right-handed pitcher, Victor George. Mails will have to furnish the bats for a special to take place tomorrow evening. High governor Del Howard will be the toastmaster and he promises to put it on real for those who make any hobbies.

Turning in a score of 237 the Golden Gate Club won team honors with Modesto second with 233. Tony Prior registered a perfect score of 50 from scratch, winning the Citizens' Lindemann trophy.

Herbert McFarlin, and his family came into camp yesterday. McFarlin has not missed a Sunday with the Oaks since they have been in training. President J. Cal Ewing and his family were expected to come into camp Saturday, but word was received here to the effect that Ewing was sick in bed.

Besides being hit a mean blow in the instep by a ball which Marty McGaffigan batted through the box in Saturday's game, Pitcher George Murchio has credit for being a leading light in one of the freest double plays possible. The ball hit by McGaffigan went on a line and bounded off Murchio's foot and high into the air over the heads of the stands, and as he did the stunt before the ball ever touched the ground, he was able to turn it into a double play. His catch of the ball retired McGaffigan on an infield fly, and then the ball went to the outfield where it was caught by Del Howard. McGaffigan could return to the box.

SAN JOSE, March 19.—Fighting a game but hopeless battle, the University of Santa Clara baseball nine went down to defeat before the Seattle regulars here yesterday afternoon, the game ending with the Indians on the winning side of a 4 to 0 score.

Jacobs and Gregg twirled for the Indians, with Yarnan at the receiving end. The fans went wild over the pitching exhibition given by Gregg, who took the mound for the Sixes in the sixth frame. After Gregg went into the box only one Santa Clara man reached first base, being walked. Heinzman twirled for the Missionites, Fitzgerald making up the other half of the battery for that team.

The Indian Yarnigans, playing the Los Gatos American Legion team at the Gen City lot, won a most decisive victory, piling up sixteen runs and not allowing their opponents a single tally. Several times it appeared that the Legion team would rally and pull out of the hole, but each time the Yarnigans came back stronger and added another run to their credit.

Score: Indians 4, 11 0; Santa Clara 0, 9 5 1. Batteries—Jacobs, Gregg and Yarnan; Heinzman and Fitzpatrick.

FRESNO, March 19.—The Salt Lake Bees blanked the Fresno Athletic club team, a Japanese organization, to 5 to 0 here yesterday in an exhibition game featured by the snappy fielding of Iwata, the losers' left fielder, who pulled down five hard chances. Myers and Duchalsky twirled for the Bees, the Nipponese getting one hit off Myers, their only safety.

R. H. E. Salt Lake 5, 12 3; Fresno A. C. 0, 1 2. Batteries—Myers, Duchalsky and Peters and Jenckins; Nishida and Yoshiwara.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Undisputed by the 24 to 21 drubbing handed his charges in their weird exhibition game with the Boston Braves at Tampa, Fla., Saturday, Owen Bush, Washington American League club manager, was reforming his line-up today for an assault on the Brooklyn Dodgers at Clearwater.

The twenty-six hits registered by the Braves against the Washington pitchers was the chief point of concern, which Bush was working to remedy in the game today.

CLEVELAND, O., March 19.—The Cleveland Indians meet the Cincinnati Reds at Lakeland today, scheduled with National League clubs for this week.

AD MAJOR LEEG Training camp NEW ORLEANS—Babe Ruth failed to get a hit in four times at bat and fanned twice when the Yankees were beating the New Orleans Southern Association club, 4 to 2.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Zach Wheat, captain and chief hold-out of the Brooklyn Robins on his way to the canyon to sign a contract, it was reported here.

LEESBURG, Fla.—The Phillies have a dozen players who are on the hospital list today. The Phillies will play the Cards at Bradenton Wednesday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Connie Mack's Athletics will rest today. The Athletics will play the Cards at Bradenton Wednesday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Connie Mack's Athletics will rest today. Tomorrow the Mackmen will split in two teams and exhibition games will be played every day until the season opens.

AD TO MEET STROH. LOS ANGELES, March 19.—Ad Stroh of San Francisco, claiming to be the world's light heavyweight wrestling champion, will meet Herman Stroh, Taft, Cal., 230-pounder, here tonight.

Young Jordan, Greck lightweight wrestler, will meet Larry Murphy, featherweight boxer of Los Angeles, in a preliminary mixed match.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—New Orleans Americans 4, 7 0; New Orleans Southern 2, 5 1. Batteries: Mays, Bush and Arthur, Beagough; Thomas, Walker and Dowle.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 19.—Cold weather postponed the exhibition game yesterday afternoon between the Giants and White Sox. The game will be played Monday afternoon, weather permitting, it was announced.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Yankee supporters were pleased over the pitching in yesterday's game in New Orleans, where Cary Mays and Babe Ruth, aided by the bats of Wally Pipp and Bob Meusel, tamed the New Orleans Pelicans 4 to 2. Bush and Mays allowed five hits. Babe Ruth failed to connect.

A north wind drove the Giants back to the Hot Stove league in San Antonio yesterday. A game scheduled with the Chicago White Sox was put over to today. It was declared that the club management decided to do next year's lumbering up in California.

BOSTON, Mass., March 19.—Uncertainty prevails in the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp of the Boston Braves as to who will make up the regular infield, according to word reaching here today. Even Stuffy McInnis, peerless first sacker, has opposition in Fred Henry.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—An epidemic of injuries has hit the training camp of the Philadelphia Nationals at Leesburg, Fla. Clifford Lee, who was hit by a pitched ball in the game with Brooklyn Saturday, is the most seriously injured. Seven other players are on the injured list.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Undisputed by the 24 to 21 drubbing handed his charges in their weird exhibition game with the Boston Braves at Tampa, Fla., Saturday, Owen Bush, Washington American League club manager, was reforming his line-up today for an assault on the Brooklyn Dodgers at Clearwater.

Young Jordan, Greck lightweight wrestler, will meet Larry Murphy, featherweight boxer of Los Angeles, in a preliminary mixed match.

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—The Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League turned the tables on the Chicago Nationals in an exhibition game here yesterday and won the first and last game of the series, 6 to 4. The Cubs were unable to hit Hughes and Jones, while the Angels made two runs on four hits off Alexander in the first inning, two more on two hits off Kauffman in the third, and clinched the game with two more hits off Kauffman in the seventh. The Cubs made one hit in the third, two more in the eighth, on which they made one run, and in the ninth inning a rally netted three runs, on one hit, a balk and three walks, when Hanna became wild.

The score: H. H. E. Chicago 6, 4 0; Los Angeles 4, 0 0. Batteries—Alexander, Dunnovich, Kauffman, Cheever and Hartnett; Hughes, Jones, Hanna and Baldwin, Rego.

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—In a fast game, featured by the good pitching of Arlett for the losers, and Ertter and Penner for the winners, the Sacramento Fallers were defeated by the Sacramento Pacific Coast League here yesterday by the score of 3 to 1.

Score: R. H. E. Sacramento 3, 1 2; Fallers 1, 2 5 1. Batteries—Arlett and Dooley; Ertter, Penner and Koshler.

Sons of St. George Defeat Barbarians. The Sons of St. George played an unbeatable brand of soccer yesterday and defeated the Barbarians of the San Francisco Athletic Club by a score of 6 to 1 in a benefit game for A. Lees at the San Pablo playground.

The play of Hyndman and Livingston for the Sons featured, each scoring one goal, while Phillips and Spurgeon scored two each.

Gray, on defense, played an excellent brand of soccer for the Sons and Batten, in goal, gave a good exhibition under the net.

Hudson registered the only marker scored by the Barbarians.

Nolip's Spanier is Awarded 1st Prize. Mission Phyllis, from the kennels of Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco was judged the best cocker spaniel of either sex at the dog show held at the Auditorium Saturday. Fara II, owned by Charles Gilbert, of Pasadena, was awarded second prize.

Red Comets' Shaghtons, belonging to Nancy Lee Fletcher, was awarded first place in the Irish Setter class.

Champion Braebrook Beautiful was adjudged the best collie. The winner is owned by Mrs. E. C. Rand, of Santa Rosa.

There were 113 dogs on display.

Bill Johnston Loses To Harvey Snodgrass. LOS ANGELES, March 19.—"Our Bill" Johnston, a San Francisco athlete, who has been a singles champion, fell before the super brand of tennis played here yesterday by Harvey Snodgrass, Los Angeles net star, in the finals of the Southern California tourney.

The southern whirlwind had a perfect day, taking three straight sets from Johnston by scores of 6-4, 6-2 and 6-2.

In an exhibition match Miss Mary Browne defeated Florence Sutton, 5-2, 6-4.

Billy Gibbs and Tom Kelly will box the main event in San Francisco Friday night. Jimmy Sacco and Eddie White are also on the card.

Colwell and Murchio Win Over Whites

Walter Mails Also Takes a Hand in Helping Grays Win Fourth Game.

MYRTLEDALE SPRINGS, March 19.—The Gray Oaks made their fourth straight win over the White Oaks yesterday afternoon. The count was 8 to 1, but had the Whites given Buz Arlett and Orville Eley, their pitchers, a little better support, the score would have been closer. Seven errors were made by the Whites.

In Colwell, George Murchio and Walter Mails did the slab honors for the Grays and their work made Manager Howard smile. Arlett allowed two hits in the first inning, but Murchio allowed only two in the next three and Mails allowed one in the ninth. Al Maderias crashed one off Mails for the circuit, but was called out for not touching first.

Five runs and seven hits were made off Arlett in five innings, while Eley allowed three runs and two hits, errors doing most of the work in helping runs over the plate.

Jack Knight was in the limelight with three hits, while Osborne Johnson was again on the job and collected a pair for himself. Marvin Smith, besides playing a great safety at short for the Grays, crashed out a pair of hits. Ira Colwell and Chester Thomas hit long triples. Colwell could have made a homer if he wanted to run very hard.

WITH THE KNIGHTS OF THE GLOVES

BY BOB SHAND.

The various gymnasiums about the bay attracted big crowds of interested spectators yesterday when Mr. Simpson's little four rounders stepped out to do their stuff. Paddy Ryan's Alameda gym was jammed to capacity and the customers saw some real scrapping in the afternoon. Ray Pelkey is working out at Paddy's place for his bout with Jack Reeves at the Auditorium Wednesday night, and Ray put on six rounds of boxing in addition to the other stunts. Handsome Frankie Denny, who boxes his old pal Midnight Edmondson on the same card, went through eight rounds of boxing with the fellow who will be Joe Leonard's opponent, gave his sparring partners a merry time.

Another set of wallpapers occupied the limelight down at the West Oakland gymnasium. Jack Reeves did his boxing at the Star club across the bay and reports from his camp state that Jack will be in shape to give Pelkey a warm evening. Frank Barriean, who meets Tom King, worked out at West Oakland. Frank did not do very well in his past two starts here, but he says he will give King a light and not waste any time hanging on. If Barriean would only light in the ring as he does in the gymnasium he would be among the best.

Mr. Siki's defeat by Mike McGuire in Dublin Saturday automatically ends the Siki boom in this country. If the colored heavyweight can't whip a little middleweight like Mike McGuire what chance would he have against Grebs and Tunney and Gibbons? The answer sticks out like a sore thumb.

BUILDING COSTS USED BY WAR LABOR, CLAIM

President of Trades Council
American Plan Has Increased Prices.

FRANCISCO, March 19.—(Associated Press).—Failure of the Federal government to prosecute San Francisco building supply dealers after General Daugherty has their alleged conspiracy method of forcing the American plan employment as illegal, is criticized in the annual report of the organization made public today.

Francisco school district in the school have a union labor on its board of education to prevent the spread of doctrines which are being inculcated in children.

The alleged American plan of material dealers to supply contractors who employ men, has failed because of the report that the plan has been repudiated by American citizens in every city in the States in which an attempt is made to introduce it.

The result of this plan is that the price of building materials has increased and is expected to go even higher.

The coming of the so-called plan these combinations

Glenn Woods' Essay Wins Tailors' Prize

Below is the essay by Glenn H. Woods, director of music of Oakland schools, which won the $85 suit of clothes, $20 for the Kiwanis Club and a $5 box of candy offered by the Merchant Tailors Association.

WHY TAILOR MADE CLOTHES

—The Constitution of the United States says that "all men are created equal," still your wife knows your faults and your family knows your failings, but your tailor is the only man who has your real measure. He knows your every curve and how to drape those curves to your advantage, not alone in the estimation of your friends, but frequently to the envy of your enemies.

—Men have long ago decided that clothes are a necessity and correctly tailored clothes are more than that. They are a manifestation of the man's personality and the "fittest."

—The selling phase of any business is always the most important. The tailor, baker or candlestick maker—the tailor-made clothes which you wear make the first sale in the self-confidence inspired in you, so while clothes may not make the entire man, they are a very important part of him and in his own self-regard when a tailor has been given an opportunity to add his art to the equation.

—Service is the watchword of business and a suit of choice quality, cut to your measure and tailored in a good shop will render you a service in wear, a service in style, and a service in satisfaction.

—The tailor-made suit carries the distinction that cultured men demand. It is a mark of distinction and cannot destroy the original lines that the tailor's art stamped upon it and this is why well-dressed men always wear tailor-made clothes.

They Are United in One Common Aim

MRS. NEAL O'GRADY, Community Chest campaign worker, illustrates the solidarity of the various public spirited organizations in uniting to make the campaign a success. The figures indicate that forty-three organizations are working as one unit.

United with the building contractors' association and with the Industrial Association, therefore, it had been the privilege of employers to hire or to discharge their employees at will. Under this American plan employers are forced to employ incompetent workmen furnished to them by American plan agencies, and furthermore they are subjected to a system of espionage to insure the retention of these incompetent workmen. Failure of an employer to comply with the mandates of these in control of the system results in his being deprived of the right to buy building materials, and in a warning that he will be "put out of business."

"Under this iniquitous plan the members of these criminal combinations are refusing to sell building materials to any person who exercises his lawful right to hire union men. Both the Federal and state laws are being flagrantly violated. While criminal proceedings against these dealers are pending in the courts, the Federal authorities have taken no action against them. We have been waiting long and patiently for the United States Department of Justice to move.

"As a result of this unlawful combination the public is forced to pay exorbitant prices for building materials and for buildings. A careful investigation of the comparative cost of identical classes of structures built prior to the advent of the American plan establishes the fact that the plan has caused great increase in the cost of all buildings.

"With regard to office buildings, investigation discloses the fact that the Hubert building, San Francisco, built by union labor, cost but 34 cents a cubic foot as compared with the Alexander building, which under the American plan cost 70 cents a cubic foot.

"Every building constructed under the American plan has greatly exceeded the estimated cost and none has been completed in the estimated time.

"Touching on the school situation with reference to the interests of the children, the report concludes: 'Who advocates of the American plan have carried their vicious propaganda into our public schools. It is our duty to see that our children are taught the truth. We must be vigilant and active in this matter. We must not allow false doctrines detrimental to the progress of America to be taught in our schools.'

"E. L. N." from the Oakland Y. M. C. A. informs her that although many of the college men may be of the other much-despised type, that out of college an occasional man can be found, he says in part:

"I want you to know that it has tickled and pleased me beyond expression to read of your battle against the actions and moves of the much-too-popular and humored 'she-man,' or disgraced to the male sex.

"I admire your start and trust you will eliminate the despised side. I regret sincerely that it is not possible for me to join your ranks, but you have every wish for success.

"I am satisfied that you are broad enough to realize that out of the sex of discreditors there are some real 'he-men.' I am one."

"The private had a more friendly style of writing, commending Miss Brown for her onslaught on the 'male blapper.' The latter, portions of which follow:

"I am writing you because I read of your poems, in which you express your desire for 'he-men.'"

"Dancing lesson? Man, you don't mean to say you are paying out good money to learn to trip the light fantastic. Go to three or four dances and waste right in."

"Nothing doing. I haven't the nerve to ask the girls to suffer with me. Honestly, I can't dance at all and I'm going to learn, or know why."

"Well, seriously, I'm glad if I've missed you at all the club dances. Suppose you will be ready for the big one the first week in April."

"I'm working hard to get in shape by that time and hope to be there, in fact, am working on it tomorrow for the affair. It will be a great occasion when I make my debut on the dance floor."

"I'll bet. But you are an old sport, buying a new spring suit."

"You bet and it's a bird, too. Just made. And I have six months to pay. That's important to me, too. Buying it at Cherry's at 528 13th street."

Cherry's store for women is at 615 14th street, 4th floor.

'NO SUBSTITUTE FOR DUTY' SLOGAN CHOSEN FOR DRIVE

Margaret Trowhitt's Suggestion for Chest and Miss Davis' Poster Win.

"No Substitute for Duty" will be the official slogan for the coming Community Chest campaign, and a poster submitted by Miss Donna P. Davis, art instructor at the University High school, will be used to illustrate it, according to decisions made yesterday by the judges. Margaret Trowhitt, 121 Mission avenue, was the author of the winning slogan which was selected out of eighty-one contributions. She will receive a prize of $25. As the winner of the poster contest, Miss Davis will receive $50.

The selections were made by Professor Eugene Neuhaus, Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander, Perham W. Nahl, A. L. Lavenson, Max Horwinski and Miss Annie Florence Brown. Harold von Schmidt, the seventh judge, was unable to attend the final conference at which the awards were made.

Miss Davis' poster was selected from thirty-two contributions which were received. It carried with it the slogan "Let's We Forget." The judges, however, decided to substitute the slogan "No Substitute for Duty" for this, and explanation is made that certain slight changes are to be made in the art work before it can be reproduced. These changes are to be made immediately, and the poster will be ready for use before the end of the week.

A colored photograph submitted by Mrs. A. E. Bartlett of 337 Forty-third street was selected to illustrate the slogan "No Substitute for Duty" for this, and explanation is made that certain slight changes are to be made in the art work before it can be reproduced. These changes are to be made immediately, and the poster will be ready for use before the end of the week.

STRINGHAM WILL ENTER CONTEST FOR MAYORALTY

City Manager Campaigner Plans to Lead Ticket; 2 Women for Council.

BERKELEY, March 19.—The official ticket of the city manager campaign committee for the municipal election to be held May 11 in Berkeley is to be announced tonight.

That is, declares Campaign Manager E. C. Holmes, if all of the persons asked to fill the nine places on the city council and as city auditor accept their nominations.

Frank D. Stringham, former city attorney, is scheduled for the nomination as mayor. Mayor Louis Bartlett has announced that he will oppose him for re-election.

For the other eight places on the city council two women are declared to be certain of being named. The women most generally accepted to be favorites with the campaign committee ticket are Mrs. R. O. Moody, former president of the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League, and Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt, Democratic leader and prominent in civic work.

The other six places on the council ticket are to be filled by the following men, according to popular comment: Charles A. Ferrin, manager of the Berkeley Country Club; Professor Samuel May of the department of municipal government at the University of California; Walter Mork, West Berkeley businessman; Frank Wentworth, former president of the Berkeley Red Cross and head of a San Francisco desk concern; H. C. Macaulay, manufacturer, and Thomas Caldecott, South Berkeley druggist.

Harry Traub, city treasurer, is favored for auditor with Councilman E. T. Harris running a close second. Elmer Bell, auditor, will again be a candidate, while Edward Hadlen, deputy county clerk, has also announced his candidacy.

Evan Fontaine And Mother Still Held in N. Y. Jail

NYACK, N. Y., March 19.—Evan Burrows Fontaine, Oriental dancer, and her mother, Mrs. Florence E. Fontaine, indicted for perjury in connection with the former's million dollar breach of promise suit against Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, today faced a continued stay in the Rockland county jail. Refused bail Saturday, pending their arraignment, because the property they offered as security was held not acceptable, the two women were locked up with Miss Fontaine's baby son.

The counsel appeared again today prepared to offer bail they thought would be acceptable. Supreme Court Justice Tompkins had gone to White Plains and nothing could be done until his return, which is expected this evening. The baby was removed from the jail yesterday by a sister of Mrs. Fontaine.

PAST PRESIDENTS TO MEET

For the purpose of stimulating interest in the four institutes held during the year by the California Conference of the Epworth League, past presidents of the organization, who comprise an advisory board, will meet at the home of Charles H. J. Truman, 230 Perry street, Saturday evening.

WOMAN BRUISED BY AUTO

ALAMEDA, March 19.—Mrs. L. Moffat, 1430 Bay street, is recovering at her home from bruises suffered Saturday night when she was struck by a machine driven by Dr. R. E. Burns.

BOYLE'S PLACE NOT TO BE FILLED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Directors Will Await Election for New Member; Hatch Presides.

There will be no attempt by the board of education to fill the place left by the death of President Harry Boyle, according to the opinions of the majority of the board.

Director George Hatch, vice-president of the board, will remain as chairman. It is promised, until the elections decide who will become the new members of the board.

It is admitted by all the directors that there are so many possible entanglements in choosing a director right now that the "business" is hardly worth the trouble.

The board has the power to appoint the temporary member if it so desires.

The Fountain of Youth in an Olive Grove

Why follow the unknown trail of strange drugs in search of the buoyant, virile feeling of youth? Nature has planted close at hand the fountain of youth in an olive grove.

Pure olive oil, taken internally and for massaging the body, is helping thousands of men and women to regain the thrill that comes from the rich, tingling blood of youth coursing through the veins.

As a remedy and preventive for weak, run-down conditions it has been recognized for centuries. If you are underweight, suffer from loss of appetite, are easily tired out, feel sluggish, lazy or depressed, try pure olive oil—nature's own tonic. A few teaspoonfuls a day and a massage at night will often work wonders. You will be saying that it is like magic.

Be sure to use pure olive oil—Sylmar.
